BATTLE OUTSIDE CITY

Two Americans Are Reported to Have Been Killed During the Fight.

By Associated Press.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Dec. 22.—Gen. Estrada has won a complete victory over the Government troops at Rama. A total of 600 men of both armies were killed or wounded. Nineteen hundred of Zelayas men have surrendered, including Gen. Gonzales, who was in command. Two Americans are reported killed.

The fighting occurred outside the city limits. The wounded are being brought here. Commander Shipley has landed surgeons from the Des Moines to care for them.

CAPT. SHIPLEY PUTS THE ZELAYA LOSSES AT 2600

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Confirmation of news dispatches from Nicaragua were received today at the Navy Department in a cablegram from Capt. Shipley of the Des Moines, now at Bluefields, dated at 3 o'clock this morning. The additional information is given in the Navy Department's advices that Gen. Castrillo, four pieces of field artillery, 1500 rifles and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition were included in the surrender.

The wounded have been carried to Bluefields where the hospital facilities are more adequate to the demands made by the results of the engagement. Capt. Shipley says he has established a hospital on shore, employing surgeons, assistants and hospital supplies from the Des Moines and the Tacoma.

Zelaya Loses 2600.

No force has been landed from the American warships, Capt. Shipley says. Zelaya's loss in killed, wounded and captured the captain reports, is about 2600.

An earlier telegram from Capt. Shipley dated Dec 21 says that the revolutionary forces in Nicaragua had gained a decisive victory at Rama over the Government forces.

The telegram states that Estrada's army on Dec. 20 began an organized attack on the Government position. The outposts of the Zelaya forces under Gonzales were defeated and routed. The fighting continued Tuesday. Gen. Vasquez of the Government forces is said to be a prisoner at Managua, but the cause of his arrest is not known at the State Department.

Captain Shipley's telegram adds that the surrender of the entire Government force was expected yesterday, and that Estrada is confident of complete success. Capt. Shipley says further that the United States gunboat Eagle is within the harbor and is prepared at any moment to land its bluejackets, but in all probability such a course will be unnecessary.

SPEAKER TELLS LUMBERMEN HELL WOULD BLUSH TO CALL KREISMANN'S SOUL ITS OWN

Mayor Kreismann, on account of the stand he has taken on the abolition of the bridge arbitrary, was denounced as a "travesty on municipal life" by Kelly R. Chandler at the meeting of the St. Louis Lumbermen's Exchange.

"H—l would blush to call the Mayor's soul its own," added Mr. Chandler, by way of emphasis.

The exchange was discussing the arbitrary, and the efforts of the City Council to have its abolished. The speakers all commended the Council for demanding the removal of the arbitrary. When Mr. Chandler got the floor he began peeling the hide in huge strips from the Mayor.

Mr. Chandler declared the Mayor's attitude has shown him in his true colors, and charged that he is making a fight against having the arbitrary discontinued.

Resolutions were adopted by the exchange strongly commending the Council's position. James E. Gatewood, associate editor of the St. Louis Lumberman, named several large industries that have been forced to move to the east side of the river on account of the arbitrary. Capt. Lloyd G. Harris declared the stand taken by the Council is one of the best moves in years for the advancement of St. Louis.

J. R. Massengale, president of the exchange, presided at the meeting, which was lively from the moment the merchants began discussing the arbitrary. Mr. Chandler is a lumber commission merchant, with offices at 22 North Second street.

$750,000 PAID FOR A PEARL NECKLACE GIVEN AS CHRISTMAS PRESENT

OTHER CHRISTMAS GIFTS $750,000 WOULD PURCHASE

THE money Mr. Widener paid for his wife's necklace would buy Christmas presents, or other trinkets, for a good many persons:

750,000 Christmas dinners at $1.
500 homes at $1500.
100,000 winter dresses at $7.50.
200,000 boys' overcoats at $3.75.
200,000 girls' cloaks at $3.75.
250,000 pairs of shoes at $3.
1 hospital for children (building and endowment) at $750,000.
1 home for incurables at $750,000.
150,000 men's ulsters at $5.
100,000 suits of clothes at $7.50.
Support 1000 families for a year, each, $750.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—Probably the most costly and beautiful Christmas gift that any woman in the world will receive this year will be the rope of magnificent pearls, said to have cost $750,000, which George D. Widener will present to his wife, who was Miss Eleanor Elkins, daughter of the late William L. Elkins, the traction magnate.

As both Mr. and Mrs. Widener are in New York today, confirmation of the report that he was the purchaser of the beautiful pearls sold in New York last week could not be had, but from another source, so direct as to confirmation, it was learned that he bought them. It is the most costly string of pearls in the world, and brought the greatest price of any pearl necklace anywhere.

It is said that Mr. Widener intended the rope of translucent gems, some of which are nearly as large as a pigeon egg and sufficient for a king's ransom, as a surprise for his wife, but news of the gift that a princess might well envy, became public.

It is probable that society will have an opportunity to admire it at a ball to be given by Mrs. Joseph E. Widener at the Bellevue-Stratford next month, and it is fair to assume that Mrs. George D. Widener will wear the pearls on that occasion.

If she should also wear at her throat the string of pearls which she has previously worn, and which have been so much admired, the total value of her pearl adornments will be a million dollars. The strand she now wears is valued at $250,000, the center stone alone being worth $65,000.

A touch of sentiment attaches to the gift of pearls from the fact that the donor and the recipient may be said to have been sweethearts from childhood. P. A. B. Widener and William L. Elkins were social familiars as well as intimate associates in traction enterprises. They lived in houses that may have been said to adjoin, and George D. Widener and Miss Elkins were childhood friends long before they became engaged.

COL. ROOSEVELT AND KERMIT OUT EARLY, AFTER SITATUNGA

Might Sound Like a Disease, but It Is Only a Rare Antelope.

sit''a-tun'ga, n. An antelope, the nakong (Tragelaphus spekei) of Central Africa, like a harnessed antelope, but with plain coloration. —Standard Dictionary.

KAMPALA, Uganda Dec. 22.—Col. Roosevelt and Kermit were out early today hunting the Sitatunga, a rare species of antelope.

This was only the start for a busy day. Later in the forenoon Col. Roosevelt called on Mother Paul, the American mother superior of the convent here; visited the Catholic mission, helped to dedicate a wing recently added to the church mission society's hospital and lunched with Bishop Hanlon.

This afternoon the Colonel received King Daudi Chwa of Uganda, and with the latter attended a dinner given by F. A. Knowles, the sub-commissioner. Tonight the expedition pitched camp at a site provided for it near the church mission society's headquarters.

LESS than half the fund needed for the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival has been subscribed.

Would you be happy on Christmas day if through your failure to give to the Fund some poor child was deprived of the happiness this Festival provides?

Ten thousand dollars is needed to provide the dinner for all the poor of St. Louis in the Coliseum on Christmas Day, to provide gifts for all the poor children, to send baskets of suitable food to all the shut-in indigent sick of the city and to serve the Christmas day dinner for homeless men.

Your contribution to this Fund is needed or the great work planned cannot be done. Some of the poor will suffer if you neglect this appeal.

FORTNER'S WIFE CHEERS HIM AS TRIAL IS BEGUN

In Court Beside Husband, She Whispers Encouragement to Accused Man.

TESTIMONY IS TAKEN

Bank Official and Secretary of Steer Firm Are Called to Stand.

STEER TELLS HIS STORY

Witness Describes Defendant's Efforts to Transact Tully Deal.

Mrs. Katharine Handlan Fortner sat beside her husband, M. Dwight Fortner, and cheered him with whispered words of comfort when he went to trial in Judge Grimm's court Wednesday on a charge of forging the name of Henry C. Tulley to a $12,000 check.

The wife, who has stood by her husband against the wishes of her father, A. H. Handlan, entered the courtroom a few minutes after taking of testimony was begun. She advanced to where her husband sat in the defendant's chair, shook hands with him impulsively and sat so close to him that their elbows touched.

She wore a black beaver hat with a black ostrich plume, a black fur cape and a black tailor-made suit, and carried a black muff which matched the cape. The only notes of color in her costume were her tan kid gloves and a string of pink coral beads at her throat.

Fortner was visibly nervous. He wore a new black sack suit, a high turnover collar and a dark green four-in-hand scarf. Most of the time while in court he kept his hands in his lap, and twirled his fingers. Before the trial started, he smoked two cigarettes, lighting the second from the first, and he smoked two more cigarettes an hour later, when a short recess was ordered by Judge Grimm.

The trial is being conducted in Division No. 11 in the east wing of the first floor of the Four Courts building. At the eastern end of the room sits Judge Grimm. To his left ranged in two rows along the south wall are the jurymen. In front of the Judge and slightly to his left is the long table used by the attorneys and reporters. As viewed by the spectators, Assistant Circuit Attorney Newton sits on the right side of this table and between it and the jury. Directly behind him sits Assistant Circuit Attorney Ferriss.

Opposite Newton is Judge Harvey, counsel for Fortner. Behind him, sitting side by side, are C. B. Williams and R. P. Williams, associate counsel for the defense.

Behind these are Fortner and his wife. Mrs. Fortner sits nearest the table, the western half of which is used by the reporters.

Testifies Steer Saw Check.

D. A. P. Cook, assistant cashier of the Third National Bank, testified that he certified a $12,000 check drawn by F. A. Steer and made payable to H. C. Tulley, Feb. 10 last.

Asked whether he saw either of the principals in the transaction, Mr. Cook said:

"The check came to my desk through a pneumatic tube from one of our tellers and I sent it back through the tube."

Howard Copeland, secretary of the F. A. Steer Furnishing Goods Co., testified that on the same day the check was certified he went to the bank at the request of Steer and got the check. When he returned to Steer's office, he said, Fortner was there. He saw Steer hand the check to Fortner after an indorsement had been placed upon it, showing that it represented a part payment on the purchase of the Alice apartments.

Steer on the Stand.

F. A. Steer was the important witness at the morning session. He told of Fortner's apparently disinterested efforts to bring Steer and Tulley together in a deal for the Alice Apartments and said that at the outset Fortner, though in business as a real estate agent, said that he would not accept any fee from either Steer or Tulley.

"He told me," Steer testified, "that he wanted the honor and the advertisement of closing the biggest real estate deal of the year. That was soon after I first became acquainted with him in September, 1908. He made several real estate trades for me in a satisfactory manner and on Dec. 20, 1908, he first talked to me of the Alice Apartments, owned by Tulley.

"After that he worried me with letters urging that I purchase the apartments. In some of these letters he repeated his statement that he wanted no fee, though he was doing a great deal of work in trying to bring me and Tulley together.

"In some of the letters he inclosed contracts all drawn up and ready for me to sign.

"Tulley wanted $125,000 for the Alice apartments, on which there was a deed of trust for $37,000. His proposition, made through Fortner and by letter, was that I should give him $45,000 and certain property on Spring avenue,

REALTY MAN ON TRIAL FOR FORGERY, HIS WIFE AND MAKER OF CHECK INVOLVED IN THE CASE

F. A. STEER
MR AND MRS. DWIGHT FORTNER (SKETCHED IN COURT)

WARRINER, WHO STOLE $643,000, GETS SIX YEARS

He Pleads Guilty and Other Charges Are Not Pressed.

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—Charles L. Warriner, deposed local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad, pleaded guilty to embezzlement in the Common Pleas Court today and was sentenced to serve six years in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Warriner was presented before Judge Woodmanze of the Common Pleas Court with the definite understanding between Prosecutor Hunt and his counsel that he would plead guilty to the charge of embezzlement and throw himself on the mercy of the Court.

Of the $643,000 Warriner is alleged to have taken from the Big Four Railroad, less than half of that sum has been accounted for by him. There have been many stories circulated that he had secreted part of the money, but these have not been verified.

After Warriner had been sentenced Prosecutor Hunt stated he would not present further charges against him to the grand jury unless it is shown that he had money hidden away. If this should be discovered, the prosecutor said, Warriner can still be prosecuted, as the crime is never outlawed.

The trial of Mrs. Jeanette Stewart Ford, "the woman in the case," who is under indictment charging blackmail and receiving stolen goods, has been set for next Monday. It is not expected, however, that the trial will be begun on that date, but will go over to a new term of court. Mrs. Ford is out on $2500 bond.

GIVE ~~TELL~~ IT TO THE DANES.
DEC 22nd 09

We've laughed at the "reuben" who bought the gold brick at some county fair every fall, but here come the sages, who tell us we've bought the brassiest gold brick of all. While Peary, the grim, whom we thought too severe with his rival a few months ago, just gives us the laugh as he reads the returns, and utters his "I told you so."

But we will survive, for each of us has an excuse, though it be a bit lame; the Danes jeer their King; we, the Business Men's League, while the league hands the public the blame. We all were the "goat," and we may as well laugh at each other in viewing our plight and vow that we'll be more suspicious next time, as we all confess "It serves us right."

The official forecast: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature; the temperature tonight will be between 15 and 20 degrees.

B.M.L. (DON'T TELL IT TO THE DANES) SEEKS CITY SONG

Chance for St. Louis Poets to Write Themselves Into Fame.

Who will write a song for the Business Men's League? It must be about St. Louis and it must be one that everybody will sing and whistle.

If it is the real thing it will be warbled at the annual banquet of the League early in January. The competition is open to all and the writer will be paid, though he cannot expect to receive as much as Dr. Cook did for his St. Louis lecture.

Maybe this one will win the prize:

ARBITRARY QUITE CONTRARY

Air: Tell it to the Danes.

St. Louis is the town for us;
We love Carondelet,
We love the dear old Water Tower—
The only thing that's wet.

We'd rather live in old St. Loo,
Say out in Portland place,
Than in that fabled Paradise—
The cradle of the race.

For Adam never knew the joy
Of getting up at dawn
And going to his daily toil
With a strap to hang upon.

This may be considered a trifle too light and airy. In that case the laurel wreath may be placed on the brow of some more ambitious singer. Something like this would have a good chance to win:

Air: Mother Goose, Op. 29, Canto V.

Arbitrary, quite contrary,
How does your garden grow?
More concessions, new possessions,
Promises all in a row.

Arbitrary, quite contrary,
What will you give us now?
More abuses, new excuses,
Pretty curtsies and a bow.

Arbitrary, quite contrary,
What would you have us give?
More franchises, bigger prizes,
That the Terminal may live.

FOR ADAM NEVER KNEW THE HAPPINESS OF HANGING ON A STRAP

This song might properly be entitled "Owed to St. Louis."

KILLS WIFE, WOUNDS CHILDREN, DIES UNDER PASSING TRAIN

Californian Who Wielded Hatchet Is Believed to Have Become Insane.

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 22.—George C. Cheuvrent, a prominent resident of this city, today killed his wife with a hatchet and then perhaps fatally injured his children, a boy of 14 and a girl of 16.

Cheuvrent rushed to the Southern Pacific tracks, threw himself under a passing train and was killed. It is thought he suddenly became insane.

HEIRESS FLEES FARM DRUDGERY FOR FACTORY JOB

Sue Prindle Runs Away From Rich Uncle and Is Arrested in St. Louis.

Sue Prindle, a 16-year-old girl who ran away from Robards, Ky., because she would rather be a factory girl than her uncle's heiress and his drudge, is being cared for by Matron Kintzing in the detention room at police headquarters. The police suspect that a telegram from Chief of Police Hold of Henderson, Ky., stating that she is wanted to answer to a charge of grand larceny, is a ruse to get her back, and will not turn her over to Kentucky officers unless they are convinced that there is foundation for a charge against her.

Besides doing the housework, she says, she had to get up at 3 o'clock every morning, feed the stock, milk the cows and build fires. Her uncle often boxed her ears and told her she was lazy and good for nothing, and she says he several times threatened to shoot her.

Gets Neighbors' Sympathy.

Saturday, in the absence of her uncle, she slipped away to visit her friends, Minnie and George Mills, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mills Sr. Mrs. Blanch Oglesby of 1931 Olive street, St. Louis, another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mills, was visiting there.

Sue told the Mills family what she had to bear at her uncle's home. She asked Mrs. Oglesby if she did not suppose she could get some kind of work in St. Louis. Mrs. Oglesby told her she thought the only kind of work she could find would be in a factory.

A factory would be better than the farm, Sue said, and she wanted Mrs. Oglesby to take her to St. Louis, but they told her she would be her uncle's heiress some day and she had better stay with him. Toward evening she consented to go back and was taken home in the Mills buggy.

Sunday she says her uncle learned where she had been and abused her and threatened to shoot her if she did not stay away from the neighbors.

Decides to Run Away.

Monday morning she was up at 3 o'clock doing the farmyard work when an impulse to run away came over her. Without changing her dress, she threw a bridle on a horse and galloped to the Mills home. Mrs. Oglesby had returned to St. Louis. Sue told them she was running away. Mills told her to go to his sister in St. Louis and she would help her find work and he gave her some money. She says she and George are not sweethearts, but just good friends.

A train was soon due on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. She bought a ticket to St. Louis for $4.50. An hour before the train reached St. Louis Tuesday night, a telegram came from Chief Hold of Henderson, fourteen miles from Robards, asking that she be arrested. She was met by detectives and taken to headquarters. When the telegram was read to her she cried. She handed $22 to Night Chief Gillaspy.

"That is all I have," she said, "and it was not stolen. George Mills gave it to me." She said all she had spent had been $4.50 for her ticket and a little for fruit and candy.

The police believe her story and will not allow her to be taken back to Kentucky unless good reason is shown.

OFFICIALS KILLED BY ASSASSINS IN THREE COUNTRIES

Chief of St. Petersburg Secret Police Blown to Pieces by Nihilist's Bomb.

NATIVE OF BRITISH INDIA KILLS ENGLISH OFFICIAL

Premier Yi of Korea Fatally Stabbed by Young Countryman Who Was Educated in America—Prime Minister of Roumania Badly Wounded.

A remarkable series of political assassinations of personages high in office is reported today from widely separated points.

In Seoul, Korea, the Prime Minister of the Korean Cabinet was stabbed to death as an apparent result of the intense feeling in Korea against Japanese influence.

In St. Petersburg, the chief of the secret police, Col. Karpoff, was blown to pieces by the explosion of a bomb, supposedly thrown by an anarchist.

In Bombay, British India, the Chief Magistrate of Nasik, Arthur M. T. Jackson, was assassinated by a native for revenge, and presumably as a part of the seditious movement against British official authority.

The Prime Minister of Roumania was shot and seriously wounded by an anarchist.

In each of the countries the governing authority is menaced by a dangerous element directed against the existing regime.

Chief of Russian Secret Police Blown to Pieces by Bomb—Murderer Caught

By Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 22.—Col. Karpoff, chief of the secret police of St. Petersburg, was assassinated early today. He had been enticed to a modest apartment in a remote street of the Vibory district and there was blown to pieces by a bomb exploded, supposedly, by his host, one Michael Vosskressensky, who had leased the rooms a few days before.

The murderer rushed into the street following the explosion, and was captured. An assistant of Karpoff's who had accompanied him, was severely injured.

Karpoff was appointed from Baku, where he had been chief of the secret police. There have been several convictions of bombmakers recently.

ARGENTINA SENDS "REDS" TO GOVERN THEMSELVES

ARGENTINA'S summary method of dealing with anarchists is described by a party of Americans who have just returned from the South American republic.

Four thousand persons suspected of being anarchist sympathizers were exiled within a period of a few days, following the assassination on Nov. 14 of Col. Falcon, Chief of Police of Buenos Ayres.

Four hundred of the more violent agitators were sent to Argentina's penal colony in Patagonia, and ordered to live there according to their own ideas of what a government should be.

Premier of Korea Stabbed to Death by Countryman Educated in America

By Associated Press.

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 22.—Premier Yi, the head of the Korean Cabinet, was stabbed and fatally wounded today by a Korean, Yie Chaim Yong.

The assailant is a young Christian who was for many years a resident of the United States. The Premier was riding in his jinriksha when the assassin came up with a long kitchen knife in his hand. He drove this twice into the Premier penetrating the abdomen and the lung.

The assassin then turned on the Premier's jinriksha man whom he stabbed and instantly killed. The assassin was immediately arrested. He is a youth of about twenty years and is believed to be a member of a political secret society.

The Premier was removed to a hospital, where he died.

Yi was always credited with fostering anti-Japanese sentiment in Korea. He bitterly opposed the faction among the Koreans which favored annexation to Japan and refused to present a petition for annexation to the Korean Diet.

Notwithstanding Yi's known sentiment in regard to the relations between Japan and Korea, Marquis Ito regarded Yi as an honest, conscientious patriot and refused to listen to the Premier's repeated requests that he be allowed to resign his office.

ENGLISH MAGISTRATE KILLED BY NATIVE IN BRITISH INDIA

BOMBAY, British India, Dec. 22.—Arthur Mason Tippetts Jackson, Chief Magistrate of Nasik, in the presidency of Bombay, was assassinated by a native while attending a theatrical performance last night. The motive for the murder is supposed to have been a wish for revenge upon the magistrate, who had recently sentenced a criminal to life imprisonment.

Nasik is a hotbed of sedition. Jackson had been in the British Indian service since 1888.

Whatever may have been the immediate motive for the assassination of Chief Magistrate Jackson, the outrage cannot fail to increase the ever-present fear of an uprising against British rule in India.

Attempts have been made in India against the lives of Lord Minto, Lord Kitchener, Sir Andrew Fraser, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and many other British officials.

On July 1, last, Sir William Hutt Curzon Wyllie, who had recently held important Indian appointments, was murdered at the Imperial Institute in London by an Indian student, who subsequently was hanged. Dr. Cawas Lalcaca, a physician of Shanghai, who was visiting in London, also was killed during the fusillade of shots, though his death may not have been intended.

ROUMANIAN PRIME MINISTER WOUNDED BY AN ANARCHIST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—An official dispatch was received by the State Department this morning from Bucharest to the effect that the Prime Minister of Roumania had been shot and seriously wounded by a Roumanian anarchist.

EMPLOYERS EXPECT TO AVERT PHOTO-ENGRAVERS' STRIKE

Negotiations between the Photo-Engravers' Union and the commercial engraving companies, in which the men are asking a flat scale of $21, are still pending. No strike was ordered, and Lon Sanders of the Sanders Engraving Co. said Wednesday that he hoped for an amicable adjustment of the controversy.

A conference was held late Tuesday between the men and their employers, and before the meeting, President Kroll of the union said that unless the men obtained their demand, a strike would be called. Though there had been no settlement, the expressed opinion of the employers that an amicable agreement would be reached resulted in a continuation of the negotiations.

HORROR PILED UPON HORROR IN FITCH'S NEW PLAY

Women Scream in Hysterical Excitement Over a Scene in "The City."

ONE BOX DEPOPULATED

Intense Strain Too Much for Occupants—Principal Part Wonderfully Portrayed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The irony of Clyde Fitch's untimely death was never really understood until last night. For years he had been celebrated as the most acute observer of feminine character among our dramatists. His stock in trade was mainly intrigues of the drawing room and women's wiles. It was often said of him that he could not write a "man's play."

Last night at the Lyric was produced "The City," which Mr. Fitch completed only a few weeks before his death. In it were actors of his choice. They played their parts according to explicit directions which he had left.

For the first time in many a day in New York, women in various parts of the house screamed in hysterical excitement. One box was depopulated of five occupants, unable to stand the pressure of the deftly arranged scene.

Even the men gripped their seats in tense interest. And when the curtain fell and Tully Marshall, who had played a half demented degenerate youth, emerged as an actor of wondrous and proved power. the shouts of the audience were the loudest and most prolonged that have been heard in a playhouse in a year.

Wonderful in Vividness.

No one can genuinely admire this great scene in "The City," but of its wonderful skill and still more wonderful vividness there cannot be a particle of doubt. To reach it, Mr. Fitch rode rough shod over the probabilities. He put the expletives and profanities in the mouths of his characters such as have not been heard across the footlights before. But he landed squarely at the goal he had set for himself. It was at once his most repellant, most daring and most successful work.

George Rand, reared in an up-State town, had heard the call of "The City" and had come to New York to carve out his career. He had succeeded in the eyes of the world. His wealth had increased. He was on the eve of being nominated for Governor.

But the dry bones of a skeleton in the family closet were rattling in his ears. His father, a prosperous but unscrupulous banker, after whom the son patterned his ideals, had been irregular in his domestic life. He had an illegal son and upon his death he had intrusted the secret to his rightful heir, enjoining him to protect the boy, yet to keep the facts of his illegitimate parentage from the family.

Son a Morphine Fiend.

This sickly youth, George Hannock, a slave to morphine, a scoundrel and a blackmailer, was now Rand's secretary. He had made known his intentions to profit by the prospective political graft and Rand thereupon had ordered him out of the house. He refused to go for he knew he had the whip hand over Rand.

The whole miserable business was that, that same morning Hannock had secretly married Cicely, Rand's sister, a girl who had been made headstrong and wayward by the new influences of city life. He had not dreamed that he was her half-brother, for he was ignorant of his own parentage.

Then the scene! Vainly Rand implored him to have the marriage annulled. He refused. Not yet suspecting the truth, Cicely urged him to be firm. Every persuasion was tried, but not an inch would either budge. Then came the revelation, followed by Hannock's curses, insane paroxysms and frenzied protestations. But the girl did not hear the last word of the disclosure, for a shot was heard and Hannock had killed her.

It was at this episode that the audience lost its self-control. The excitement continued as Hannock, bent on taking his own life, pleaded and fought for the revolver which Rand held. The latter was once upon the point of yielding, but he threw the pistol out of the window and left the degenerate to be dealt with by the electric chair.

All this was sensationalism in its most virulent form, but it rang true. It is to be deprecated in a theater, yet its psychology could not be denied. And the technique of the writing no less than the skill of the acting by Mr. Marshall, Walter Hampden as Rand, and Mary Nash as his sister, were wonderful. Beside it Henri Bernstein's vividly theatrical climax in "Israel" became not much more than a shadow.

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found.

Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. which I value at $50,000. I was to assume the deed of trust. I rejected this proposal, but stated my willingness to pay $25,000 in addition to my property.

Urged Him to Get Draft.

"On Dec. 28, 1908, I received a letter from Fortner in which he again urged me to make the purchase and said that he would take no fee unless I saw fit to give him one. Jan. 13 he wrote saying that he wanted no fee and that all he asked was that if I bought the property I would turn it over to him to manage, so that he could show me what a good investment it was.

"He called at my office Feb. 6 and said it would be satisfactory if I would pay $10,000 in cash. That suited me and to bind the bargain I gave Fortner a check for $1000 to be paid to Tulley as earnest money. He returned this check to me the same day, saying the deal could not be closed on that basis.

"On Feb. 8 I received a letter from him in which he urged me to get a New York exchange draft for $12,500 to be given to Tulley, through Fortner, as first payment on the apartments.

"He called at my office Feb. 10 and again urged that I get the draft. I told him I couldn't see why a certified check wouldn't do just as well. After some objections he consented to take the check. I indorsed it and gave it to him to be delivered to Tulley. He left my office with the check."

Judge Harvey's objection to Steer's testimony that he indorsed the check was overruled. The basis of the objection was that the indictment does not specifically state that Steer wrote his name on the back of the check.

Steer testified that three days after the check was issued he became uneasy and telephoned to Fortner's wife. He was not permitted to repeat what was said over the wire.

He testified also that Frank H. Gerhart and Beal McNamara were other real estate agents who endeavored to interest him in the Alice Apartments.

Stress on Location of Office.

When H. C. Tulley took the stand it became apparent that the exact location of his office on the tenth floor of the Wainwright Building will be an important point in the prosecution of Fortner. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Newton apparently laid the lines for forestalling any evidence that may be given by Fortner's missing witness who is expected to testify that he accompanied Fortner to Tulley's office on the day the check is alleged to have been fraudulently indorsed.

Tulley testified that his office is in the east wing of the Wainwright Building and that in order to reach it one must walk 25 feet from the elevator to an attic storeroom and then walk through the storeroom, which is 95 feet long and 50 feet wide.

He first met Fortner about Dec. 15, he said, when Fortner walked into his office, saying that Steer had sent him to get a figure on the Alice apartments. Fortner told Tulley that he wanted to make a big real estate deal before the year ended.

"He came back Feb. 5 and said he thought he had Steer 'going.'

"On Feb. 10, when I went back to my office from lunch, Fortner was sitting in my chair with his feet on my desk. 'Here I am, back again,' he said. I told him that the deal was off.

"He held up a piece of paper and said: 'Look what I've got.' It was a check for $12,000 signed with Steer's name. I did not take it from his hand and only saw the face of it.

"I said to him that I considered his action an insut and I added: 'Steer must think I'm hard up.'

"Fortner then asked me where I did my banking. I tod him at the German American Bank and he said: 'Well, don't you think you had better indorse this so Steer can get his money back?'

"I told him that wouldn't be necessary, as all Steer would have to do would be to take the check back to his own bank. The next time I saw that check was the following Monday at the St. Louis Union Trust Co., after Fortner had cashed it."

EX-CONFEDERATE THANKS RYAN FOR SAVING HIS LIFE

Capt. A. C. Grimes Shows Gratitude to Archbishop After 45 Years.

When Capt. A. C. Grimes, former Confederate spy and owner of a hunting and fishing club in Lincoln County, Mo., heard that Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia was in St. Louis he hurried to the Planters Hotel to again thank the prelate for saving his life during the Civil War.

Archbishop Ryan, then a priest at the Church of the Annunciation at Eighth and Gratiot streets, enabled Capt. Grimes to escape after he had been sentenced to be shot as a spy. Capt. Grimes was carrying mail from Price's army in Mississippi to St. Louis and was captured by Federal soldiers.

After being ordered shot he was sent to a Federal prison in St. Louis adjoining the Church of the Annunciation. Capt. Grimes did not mind being shot, but he preferred to live to serve the Confederacy, and after getting out of prison he slipped into the church and went to Father Ryan with the story of his troubles. Father Ryan sent him to the home of a friend, where he remained in hiding several days. He then made his way back to the Confederate ranks and served in the Southern army until the close of the war.

Capt. Grimes is now living at 4478A Delmar boulevard. He is almost 80 years old, but is strong and active.

Escaped and Recaptured.

Capt. Grimes joined the Ralls County Rangers in the beginning of the Civil War. Mark Twain was a member of this brigade, and was elected its lieutenant. From North Missouri Capt. Grimes went to the Southern States. The soldiers could get no letters from home, and Capt. Grimes was selected to invade the territory held by the Federal troops to get mail for the Confederates.

He was captured first at Springfield, Mo., and escaped from prison there. Two days later he was recaptured at Pea Ridge and sent to St. Louis and placed in a penitentiary, from which, after great difficulty and many trials, he escaped. With the aid of the future Archbishop Ryan, he eluded detection until he could get back to the Confederate lines.

ZACH TINKER AND SON HIRED AT $40 A WEEK TO SELL BEER

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 22.—Zach W. Tinker of St. Louis, formerly president of the Security Brewing Co., and George Tinker, his son, formerly treasurer of the company, were today hired as ordinary solicitors for that company at a salary of $40 a week each.

John McGraw, the receiver whom the Tinkers have been fighting, agreed to employing the Tinkers and the Civic District Court sanctioned the action.

The Tinkers are given their jobs because of "wide acquaintance with the trade of the brewery." It is said the elder Tinker's salary as president was $1000 a month. He owes the company $100,000, according to recent allegations of creditors.

SERVANTS SAVE LIVES IN FIRE AT THE VROOMAN

Scantily Clad Girls Arouse Residents of Exclusive Apartments.

BAREFOOT WOMEN FLEE

C. Porter Johnson, Who Is Ill, Wife and Others Shiver in Nightrobes.

Fashionable women dwellers in the Vrooman Apartments at Taylor and McPherson avenues did not have time to put on their street gowns when they were aroused by cries of fire at 2:45 a. m. Wednesday.

Most of them ran out into the cold winter air in their nightrobes and without their shoes and stockings.

While residents of Shandon Court, where the fire started, were frantically trying to escape, two serving maids, Clara and Lizzie Vaughan, sisters, were heroically attempting to rescue five other girls, who slept in the basement, where the fire started.

To Reward Heroines.

Thomas took up a collection for the Vaughan sisters as a recognition of their heroism and the men and women who were saved contributed $15.20, to be divided between Clara and Lizzie.

Escaping gas from one or more of 60 gas meters in the front part of the basement of Shandon Court is supposed to have been ignited by a gas jet.

While no one in the apartments heard an explosion, the Vaughan sisters say they were awakened by a blinding flash of light and an instant later the basement was filled with smoke.

Groping their way to the window of their room, they pushed out a wire screen and forced open the sash. Lizzie and Clara climbed out the window. Though they wore only their nightgowns, they ran down the ice-covered alley, knocking on each of the windows occupied by other young women servants and crying "Fire!"

Girls Arouse Occupants.

Some of the girls, aided by the Vaughan sisters, pried the screens from their windows and crawled out and others escaped through doors. Those who were aroused and rescued by Clara and Lizzie Vaughan were Della Gleeson, Lena Feigel, Margaret Willenbrink, Lizzie Baer and Lizzie Theobald.

Lena Feigal ran to the corner and turned in a fire alarm and the Vaughan sisters went through the upper floors of Shandon Court, arousing the occupants.

Attorney C. Porter Johnson and his wife, who have apartments on the first floor, were aroused by the girls and found their rooms filled with smoke. Mr. Johnson has been ill a week. Though there was grave danger that exposure might cause a relapse, he had no time to dress. He and his wife, both barefooted, stood in the street while other occupants of the court were being aroused.

Orrin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Geist, Mrs. L. C. Farrar and Clyde C. Thomas left the building scantily clad. Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Biddle whose apartments are on the third floor had time to don a few garments.

Though the apartments are fire-proof, an explosion of gas was feared and after the flames were extinguished the police would not permit the dwellers to return to their rooms for an hour. Most of them were out in the cold for nearly two hours.

Though the fire was confined to Shandon Court, some of the girls in the basement of another court were greatly excited and firemen helped them through the windows.

All the interior woodwork of the basement of Shandon Court was destroyed, the loss being estimated at $500.

RIOTS MAR POMP AT FUNERAL FOR KING LEOPOLD II

Crowds Displace Carriages of Mourners Until Driven Back by Soldiers.

SOLEMN SERVICE HELD

Body Rests in Royal Vault Near Those of Other Members of Reigning House.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 22.—Leopold II, King of the Belgians, was buried today in the royal vault in the Church of St. Mary, at Laeken. The funeral was marked by all the pomp and ceremony Brussels and Belgium could produce.

The body of the late King rests near those of his Queen, Marie Henriette, the Princess Josephine and the Duke of Brabant.

Cavalry Makes Charge.

After the religious ceremony, which was of imposing solemnity, the military cortege drove through a mass of riotous citizens. The lines of soldiery were broken, and the carriages thrown out of their places. So unruly did the people become that the cavalry was forced to charge. Many of the onlookers were wounded so seriously that they were taken to hospitals.

A holiday had been proclaimed and thousands of persons filled the streets during the services. Early in the day the body was taken from the royal palace to the cathedral of St. Michael and St. Gudule, where impressive funeral rites were held.

From the church the cortege moved to Laeken, where repose the bones of Leopold I, Queen Louise and those of Leopold's immediate family whom he had survived.

Prince Albert a Mourner.

The cortege entered the transept portal headed by officers of the army and civic guard in full uniform and followed by the judges in their scarlet robes, the ministers, members of parliament and many priests. The priests' intonation of "De Profundis" filled the great edifice as the huge cross appeared, followed by the rich-robed Cardinal Mercier, the archbishop of Melines, whose tall figure and pale, ascetic face, gave added solemnity to the occasion. Behind the velvet-covered casket walked Prince Albert, who wore the uniform of a general.

A requiem mass was celebrated by the Cardinal. The famous collegiate choir of Brussels rendered without organ accompaniment "Dies Irae" and "De Profundis." The mass was followed by the rites of absolution, performed over the body by five bishops and the papal nuncio. This concluded, the cortege was reformed and proceeded to the church at Laeken, where the burial was made.

As the military cortege left the cathedral and passed through the denser parts of the city the crowds increased and impatiently surged against the cordons of soldiers who guarded the line of march. The soldiers were unable to restrain the spectators, who soon became riotous.

New Riot Is Started.

For a time disorder reigned. The lines were broken and in the hopeless confusion which followed, the carriages of the members of the Parliament were intercepted and the funeral parade all but broken up. The police and soldiers struggled with the excited people and in the clash many persons were so bruised that they were sent to the hospitals.

At Laeken burial service was held. The assemblage included the women of the royal family. Several missionaries from the Congo, including a negro, were present.

WOMAN IS REBUKED BY COURT FOR TART ANSWERS

Mrs. Levina M. Walters Surprised When Husband Defends Divorce Suit.

Mrs. Levina E. Walters, who supposed her divorce suit was going by default Wednesday in Judge McQuillin's court, was indignant when her husband, Charles W. Walters, rushed into the courtroom at the last moment and insisted upon putting her to grilling cross-examination.

Her answers consisted of such tart amenities as "None of your business" and "I won't tell you," until the Court asked her how she would like to go to jail for contempt.

"In October, 1908, in the kitchen at home, didn't I give you $100?" demanded Walters.

"No," was the sharp answer, "Uncle Sam gave it to me."

"Didn't Uncle Sam owe the money to me?"

"He gave it to me because you drank so much," tauntingly said the plaintiff.

"What did you do with the money you got from that Denver suit?" pursued Walters.

"That's my business," snapped his wife.

"To whom did you hypothecate 25,000 shares of gold mining stock?" asked he.

"None of your business," replied Mrs. Walters, furiously angry.

"Madam, how would you like to go to jail for contempt? put in Judge McQuillin.

"Did I get any of the $50 for which you sold the stock?" asked her husband.

"No," she retorted, "you drank up every dollar you got."

This rebuff seemed to discourage Walters, for he ended his examination. On his assurance that he "could bring in the whole city of St. Louis" to testify to his sobriety, the Court took the case under advisement.

CITY IS WITHOUT TITLE TO GROUND FOR BRIDGE PIER

Promise of Southern Railway Is Obtained to Relinquish Land for $100.

CAISSON IS ORDERED

Mayor Is Informed That Delay Now Would Put Construction Back a Year.

No title to the land on which the east pier of the Free Bridge is to stand has been acquired by the city, and there is no likelihood that a clear deed to it will be obtained for five months.

Meantime President Reber of the Board of Public Improvements has ordered the contractors to proceed with work and they are now sinking a caisson on the property which belongs to the Southern Railway. A bill appropriating $200 for the purchase of an option on the ground—38x39 feet—is now before Mayor Kreismann.

President Reber of the Board of Public Improvements told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that there is no assurance that the city will get a title to the property.

"The Southern Railway Co. has signified its willingness to sign an agreement to give a deed to the property, and to obtain releases from eight mortgages," said Reber.

Option Awaits Approval.

"This option is to terminate in five months, and the agreement has been forwarded to the general offices of the Southern Railway Co. in Washington, D. C., for signature by the president and other officers.

"If the mortgagees should decline to release their mortgages, the city could still hold the Southern Railway Co. The contractors told me that unless they could start work while the river is low, they would be delayed a year. Rather than defer construction that long, I told them to go ahead and they are sinking the caisson.

'Ordinarily, a structure of any kind placed by one person on the property of another belongs to the owner of the land unless there be a contract to the contrary. But the company which is to build the pier has a lease on six acres of ground, including the site of the pier, and the caisson and other materials belong, not to the city, but to the contractors.

"In view of that fact, I think, the Southern Railway Co. could not claim the caisson, even if the city should obtain no deed to the property from the Southern.

"Failing in the purchase of the property, the city might begin condemnation of it. Nothing that has thus far been done by the city has impaired its right to exercise eminent domain."

Public Hearing Refused.

While the bill appropriating $100 for the proposed option was pending in the Municipal Assembly members of the Free Bridge Committee asked for a public hearing on the measure, but their request was refused.

The United Free Bridge Committee has objected to the purchase of the site for the pier, contending that the city should condemn it in the Federal courts to insure a perfect title.

BROKAW TELLS OF FATHER-IN-LAW'S THREAT TO KILL

Parent, He Declares, Said He Would Shoot Him for Late Rising.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MINEOLA, N. Y., Dec. 22.—That a threat to kill him was made by James A. Blair, father of his wife, will be testified to when W. Gould Brokaw's testimony in his defense is heard. The young millionaire will detail the occasion when the elder Blair came to Atlantic City and found the young couple in their rooms until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. In describing the incident in court today, Lawyer McIntyre of Brokaw's counsel said:

"An exchange of words passed, during which Brokaw protested that Blair had no right knocking on their apartment door, that he had married his daughter and he was capable of attending to her needs without her father's intervention."

Blair then threatened to kill Brokaw if the latter's conduct made her unhappy. Brokaw will testify that the father then demanded that some arrangement be made by which the young couple would arise earlier and go out into the sea air or he would blow out Brokaw's brains. It was then that Brokaw replied that he would give Blair an opportunity to carry out his threat if Blair would allow him a chance to get a pistol also.

When questioned regarding the incident, Brokaw said: "That's all true. He did object to us being in our rooms all day and said he would shoot me. When I saw he meant it, I only asked him to give me a chance to arm myself. It's the first time I ever heard a father-in-law object because too much affection was placed upon his daughter."

Owing to the unexplained absence of Lawyer Weiss of counsel for the defense, with all the minutes of the trial, the case went over until 1 o'clock at Mr. McIntyre's request, so the missing lawyer could be looked up.

CENSUS TAKERS HAVE 32 QUERIES FOR EACH PERSON

Total of 2,880,000,000 Questions to Be Asked by Government Enumerators.

WANT PERSONAL FACTS

Color, Race and Ability to Speak English Are Some of Things to Be Asked.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Everybody in the United States will be asked 32 questions about their intimate and personal affairs on or after April 15, 1910. That will be 2,880,000,000 questions, if the country lives up to the advertised 90,000,000 population.

Some of these questions will make some people mad, and the mortality among census enumerators is expected to be about the average. For instance, when Col. Todhunter is asked whether he is white, black, mulatto, Chinese, Japanese or Indian, he may get peeved and insurge some. Brander Matthews, Richard Bartholdt and Chuck Connors probably will take umbrage when asked whether they speak English.

One question is, "Whom do you work for?" Replying to this, you are not permitted to say "my wife" or "the Standard Oil Co." You will also be expected to inform the Government how many weeks you were out of work in 1909 and whether you had a job April 15, 1910.

Experts Pass on List.

The population schedule which will be carried by the enumerators during the thirteenth decennial census has engaged for the past few months the joint consideration of Assistant Director Willoughby, William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population, and Prof. William B. Bailey, Yale instructor in political economy, who later was commissioned supervisor of the census for the State of Connecticut.

The schedule has been approved by Census Director Durand, and in its final form will be 15 by 23 inches in size, printed front and back, with 50 lines on each side, one for each person enumerated. The Government Printing Office will print 1,800,000 copies, so as to give each of the 330 supervisors of census an ample supply to meet all the needs of about 67,000 assistants, who will enumerate the population in April.

The paper on which the schedule will be printed will be first-quality white writing, 23 by 32 inches, 64 pounds to the ream, the total weight being 230,400 pounds. The schedule paper is very heavy and will stand a great deal of handling.

Total of 32 Questions.

The 32 questions are classified under 13 groups. The first is "location," and under this head the enumerator must write down the street, avenue, road, the house number in cities or towns, and the number of the dwelling house and the number of the family, in the numerical order of the enumerator's visitation.

Under the subject "Name," for each person whose place of abode on April 15 was in the family being enumerated, the census taker is instructed to enter the surname first, then the given name and middle initial, if any. He must include every person living on April 15, 1910, and must omit children born since that date.

The third group, "relationship," calls for a statement of the relationship which the person enumerated bears to the head of the family in which he resides.

The "Personal Description" group asks for the sex; color or race—that is, whether white, black, mulatto, Chinese, Japanese, or Indian; aged at last birthday; whether single, married, widowed, or divorced; the number of years of present marriage; and, under the subject of "Mother of how many children," the number of children each woman has had and the number now living.

The group relative to "Nativity" requires answers stating the place of birth of the person enumerated and also of his or her father and mother. The instructions are that if either is born in the United States, the enumerator must give the State or Territory, but if of foreign birth he must give the country.

The two questions regarding "Citizenship" apply to foreign-born persons only, and call for a statement of the year of immigration to the United States, and, in the case of adult males, whether naturalized or alien.

Language Statistics Wanted.

The next question requires the enumerator to ascertain whether the person is able to speak English, or, if not, to give the language spoken.

There are five questions touching upon "occupation." The first calls for the trade or profession. The next calls for a statement of the general nature of the industry. The third wants to know whether the person is an employer, employe or working on his or her own account, and, under the fourth and fifth questions, whether out of work on April 15, 1910, and the number of weeks out of work in the year 1909.

The questions in the "education" group are "whether able to read," "whether able to write," and "attended school any time since Sept. 1, 1909."

Information regarding "ownership of home" will be obtained by these questions: Whether the home is owned or rented; if owned, whether free or mortgaged, and whether it is a farm or simply a house, as in a village or city; if a farm, the schedule carries for purposes of identification the number of the farm schedule.

The schedule further contains inquiries as to whether the person enumerated is a survivor of the Union or Confederate army or navy; whether blind in both eyes, and whether deaf and dumb.

MUNYON.

LAST week I announced that I believed the time would come when people would live on almost indefinitely; that science would find the phosphates and elements necessary to supply the waste that takes place in the human body; that I considered it a crime for people to wear out their energies in 60, 70, 80 or 100 years.

This declaration has called forth praises and condemnations from all parts of the country. One prominent physician writes: "Your theory that the large bowel is responsible for most ills is well founded, but unlike the appendix, I don't see how it can be dispensed with." I don't, either. But I do see how it is possible to keep it clean and sanitary. I do see the absurdity of carrying around in this bowel quantities of decayed, effete and gaseous matter which can only irritate the nerves, stagnate the liver and disarrange the digestive organs. I do know that biliousness, indigestion, headaches, heart palpitation, nervousness, and in many cases kidney and rheumatic ailments are produced by this clogged condition of the bowels. I have never known a person who suffered from constipation to be free from irritability. Now, I claim that this irritability and nervousness tax our vital forces and soon wear out our energies. When the bowels are clean and sanitary, the stomach performs its functions loyally and the heart has little to do in sending good, rich blood into every fiber and tissue of the body, so that uric acid, which causes so much kidney and rheumatic trouble, can find no lodgement in the human body. Keep the bowels in good condition and ladies will have very little use for cosmetics to give their cheeks the glow of youth or their eyes the brightness and vivacity of perfect health. Keep the bowels clean and sanitary, and there will be no blood impurities manifesting themselves as pimples and eruptions upon the face or any part of the body. I go further, and say, keep the bowels clean and people will be less suspicious, less jealous, less envious, and there will be less cause for divorce and domestic infelicity. Furthermore, I believe that longevity depends upon the condition of the nerves and that the nerves depend upon the condition of the bowels. I am not alone in these opinions. I find that some of the most learned scientists of Germany and France are working on this theory, and I most conscientiously believe that Munyon's Paw Paw Pills will do more to prevent disease, to remove bodily ailments, to spread cheer and prolong life than any remedy that has ever been compounded. They not only stimulate digestion, correcting dyspepsia and the fermentations of the stomach, but they seem to coax the liver into activity by removing from the lower bowel in an antiseptic way all the effete matter, making it clean and sanitary. People who are suffering from constipation owe it to themselves to take a Paw Paw Pill every night. They are in no sense a purgative, but have the power of stimulating the bowels into a natural performance of their functions. People who eat hearty dinners or drink copiously, will find these pills a great blessing. In order that every one may have a chance to try them, I have recently put up a 10-cent box, containing ten pills. The regular sized bottle contains about fifty pills, and sells for 25 cents.

DEADHOUSE KEEPERS ARE FIRED FOR 'TIPPING OFF' UNDERTAKERS

Six Employes of City Hospital Accused of Informing One Firm of Deaths.

The discharge of six keepers of the City Hospital deadhouse within three months is believed to have checked the practice of "tipping off" deaths at the hospital to a certain undertaking firm.

The seventh man, who has been on the job for nearly three weeks, is believed to value the position, with its salary of $45 a month and board, too highly to take any chances on losing it. Undertakers, who protested against the favors of this sort shown to a certain firm, have been assured by Health Commissioner Bond that the hospital authorities will do their best to obtain a "square deal" for all. The undertakers' association, at its meeting in Fraternal Hall Tuesday night, reviewed the effort made to abolish this "graft." The firm "tipped off" by hospital employes with the first news of deaths used to hurry solicitors to relatives, it was said, and in this way got much business.

FREEHOLDERS WILL BEGIN TO FRAME CHARTER IN JANUARY

Board Listens for Eight Months to Addresses by Civic Authorities.

The Board of Freeholders has decided to go to work. At the next meeting, on Jan. 4, the members will begin to frame a charter for the city, a function which they were elected more than eight months ago to discharge. At their meetings heretofore the freeholders have listened to addresses by authorities on various civic departments.

At the session Tuesday, Owen Miller introduced a resolution providing that the board resolve itself into a committee of the whole and proceed in executive session with the framing of the charter. The resolution passed.

Robert H. Whitelaw introduced a resolution asking that the St. Louis newspapers be notified that the board has taken no formal action on any question so far. Being informed that the newspapers were presumably aware of this fact, Mr. Whitelaw withdrew his resolution. He said the press had given an erronous impression that the board was opposed to certain public utilities corporations.

LEITER KIN DIES IN POVERTY

Man Said to Have Been Millionaire's Cousin a Laborer.

Joseph Leiter of 1626 Carr street, members of whose family say he was a cousin of Joseph Leiter, Chicago wheat king and mine owner, died at his home of abscess on the brain, and was buried Tuesday afternoon. Relatives say that he was wealthy until a few years ago when he lost his money in speculations.

He quarreled with the Chicago Leiters several years ago over business matters, relatives say, and when he needed help recently he refused to appeal to them. He was 66 years old and a laborer.

ALL READY TO GREET OLD SANTA CHRISTMAS DAY

Two Judges on Committee to Escort Him Into the Coliseum.

A. BUSCH GIVES $500

Arrangements Are Completed for Feeding the Thousands of Poor.

As president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, Mr. Adolphus Busch has notified the Post-Dispatch that he contributes five hundred dollars to the Christmas Festival Fund. This gift greatly encourages the Festival Committee to hope that the entire sum of $10,000 needed for the work of providing all the poor in St. Louis with food and other means to joy on Christmas day will be given by the well-to-do of the city.

Mr. Busch's generous donations to worthy causes are well known. His magnificent gift of $100,000 to the sufferers from the San Francisco disaster far exceeded the contribution of any other person or firm. In St. Louis there are many monuments to his philanthropy, and many have had cause to be grateful to him. He is always in the leadership of good work.

The Executive Committee of the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Fund held its last meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Mercantile Club. All of the arrangements for the festical at the Coliseum, the dinner for homeless men at the Midday Lunchroom and the distribution of baskets at the Kinloch building were completed and the intricate machinery of the great annual hospitality was pronounced in fine working order.

All that remains is the starting of the machinery and the oiling of it by your contributions. For you mustn't forget that several thousand dollars is yet required to pay the expenses of this great party which you are giving to the poor.

The letters which Santa Claus has been sending from his quarters near the North Pole to the Post-Dispatch caused much excited discussion at the Executive Committee meeting. O. F. Karbe, who is the chief conspirator in the mysterious arrangements for the reception of Santa Claus, mentioned the fact that he knew Peary very well, and he was prepared to ask Santa Claus all sorts of embarrassing questions. But the other members of the committee said they thought that the old fellow would be able to tell a straight story.

For some reason, the committee members expect that Santa Claus will get into trouble when he arrives in St. Louis Christmas morning and makes his way to the Coliseum. A week ago Sheriff Nolte was appointed to take charge of him with a squad of deputies.

The committee added to this precautionary scheme by appointing Judge Moses N. Sale and Judge Wilson A. Taylor and Stephen A. Martin members of a special committee to escort Santa. The two judges will be on hand to release him if he gets arrested and Mr. Martin, as the representative of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co., will be there to furnish any size bond that the judges will be forced to require of the frosty old gentleman.

Oscar Dane and Sylvester Von Phul have been added to the committee in charge of the arrangements for the reception in the Coliseum on Christmas day of Santa Claus. Mr. Dane has gathered together a company of actors who will figure in the program of entertainment at the Coliseum and Mr. Von Phul is concerned in charge of some unique plans connected with the entrance of Santa Claus.

A vote of thanks was unanimously voted by the Executive Committee for the co-operation of Robert McCulloch, president of the United Railways, in giving free street car franks for the holders of tickets for the Coliseum dinner and for the baskets.

All of the applications for Christmas baskets have been received and the Executive Committee announces that it cannot handle any more applications. The representatives of the 18 charitable organizations which have acted as distributing centers for the Post-Disptach Christmas Festival Fund held a meeting Tuesday night at the Provident Association at which meeting the cards were made out for destitute families who will receive a Christmas basket the day before Christmas.

THE POOR SEE YOUR GLADNESS AND ARE SADDER; HELP THEM

THE streets in the shopping district were crowded late Tuesday afternoon and evening. Hundreds of men and women and children swarmed in and out of the shops that were kept open for the Christmas trade, and hundreds stood before the windows filled with wonderful presents.

Almost everyone you met seemed happy. Business men with their arms full of bundles run into by little boys smiled instead of frowning. In almost every face was written that spirit of the Christmastide, of fine thoughts, of bright hopes, and new plans for the morrow.

Almost everyone, we said, seemed happy. Because you know there were many on the streets that were not happy. In every crowd around big windows were little boys and girls with pinched faces and wide-open, wondering eyes. While other little boys and girls with their parents pointed out in the windows what they would like to get for their friends and then went rushing into the shops, these little children of the Other Half just looked.

That is all they have been used to doing—just looking. They couldn't do anything else. Some of them have parents, but long ago they have learned that all their parents can do for them is to keep their bodies and souls together. And those of them without parents—well, they forget generally all about gifts and presents, so busy are they in their struggle to keep alive.

THEY forget all about presents all the year around except this Christmas. Then you won't let them forget, will you? You crowd the streets in front of the shops, you fill your automobiles with great bundles before their very eyes; you call out merry greetings to your friends so that they cannot help hearing, and then they (the children of the poor) are forced to stop and think about the coming of Christmas.

And thinking so they begin to wish that someone would remember them; they wonder why it is that since there is no one to bring them presents why they should be reminded of this by you. They cannot understand why pain that comes from hunger and from cold should be made greater by all this blustering, merry-making of yours.

You can see that, can't you? If you can't, then your heart is not worth the work it does for you and your mind has been doing other things than thinking.

That is why you should think at this time of the year of the Other Half. You can go down to their homes in the tenement districts, in imagination at least, and try to find out what you can do to make them happy.

And do you know that more than money or clothes or food even they really want Christmas cheer? It's so. they will tell you it is so themselves.

THERE are hundreds of little children of the Other Half who believe that Santa Claus is going to visit them just as much as your children do. They are waiting for him as your children are. And if he doesn't come their little hearts will be filled with the deepest and the blackest sorrow.

You have seen a child cry. You have seen your children cry. It hasn't troubled you much, because what they cried over was generally something trivial—like teeth, or because they couldn't go out when it was raining.

But have you ever seen a child disappointed in not getting something which it has been expecting for days and days? Have you seen a little child who has been told that Santa Claus would bring wonderful presents on Christmas morning when there was no evidence that he had been there?

It isn't a cheerful sight. First, an expression of wonder comes over the child's face; then the little lips begin to quiver and the eyes brim over with tears. Every Christmas morning children look like that—hundreds of them, the children of the poor.

Please help the Post-Dispatch to keep the disappointments down to a minimum of none.

Capt. J. P. Thorn Writes:

Capt. John P. Thorn, of Oakmount, Penn., writes: "I have had much trouble with my bowels for over 25 years (constipation), and have tried all the different kinds of physics on the market, but all of them got old, or ineffective in my case, and would soon fail to give any relief and would gripe me so much when compelled to increase the dose that they made my bowels so sore and painful that I was never real well; then I would have to lay off and take a dose of Calomel and follow it with a dose of salts. But your Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills are different, and by taking one over night at bedtime, it gives me a free movement of the bowels every morning after breakfast, without griping, straining or burning sensation. Your Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills are indeed a "pleasurable physic," and do all you claim for them, as I now feel better than I have for 30 years."

A free trial package will be mailed any one addressing The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio. Or obtain a 10c or 25c package from any druggist.

LACLEDE COMPANY CONSIDERS PIPING GAS FROM CADDO FIELD

Executive Committee Returns From an Inspection Trip in Northern Louisiana.

Members of the executive committee of the Laclede Gas Light Co. have returned from an inspection trip to the Caddo natural gas fields in Northern Louisiana.

Two applications for franchises are pending in the Municipal Assembly. If the franchises are granted there may be great rivalry between the Laclede company and the new companies to get their pipe lines first into St. Louis.

The distance from St. Louis to the Caddo fields is 500 miles, and the cost of laying an adequate pipe line, it is said, would be about $2,000,000. Experts are at work to determine whether it would be profitable to make such a large investment.

Officials of the Laclede company are said to have estimated that St. Louis would consume 150,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day if it is offered at a price to compete with coal. If gas is piped here the price will be something less than 50 cents a thousand cubic feet—probably 45 cents. The consumption of 150,000,000 cubic feet a day at 45 cents would bring a gross income of $67,500 a day, while the Laclede's gross income from the sale of artificial gas is less than $10,000 a day.

The members of the Laclede executive committee who inspected the fields were Thomas H. West, W. K. Bixby and G. H. Walker. C. L. Holman, vice-president of the company, was also a member of the party. Others who made the trip were August A. Busch, E. H. Everett, L. E. Dennig, Walker Hill, Harry B. Hawes, J. C. McDowell of Pittsburg and James Stewart, the contractor. The trip was made in private cars furnished by Mr. Busch.

THIEF SNATCHES WOMAN'S PURSE

Companion, a "Detective," Permits Robber to Escape.

A thief snatched the purse of Mrs. Louisa Cummins at Twelfth street, between Carr and Biddle streets, Tuesday night and escaped. A man supposed to be a companion of the thief detained Mrs. Cummins and her daughter Mabel, who accompanied her, until the purse snatcher had time to get away.

The thief jumped from the shadow of a building when the women approached and grabbed the purse containing $10.15. When Mrs. Cummins screamed a man came up and said he was a detective and asked her to tell him about the robbery. He left her after a few minutes and Mrs. Cummins reported the matter to the police. Mrs. Cummins lives at 1602A Knapp street.

HIGH COURT UPHOLDS RECEIVER

The Supreme Court has decided that former Judge Robert M. Foster exceeded his authority in ordering a dissolution of the Donnell Manufacturing Co., appointing a receiver for it, and ordering John W. Donnell, its president, to pay to the receiver $61,654. Stockholders of the company filed suit for a receiver, and Judge Foster appointed John H. Holiday to wind up the company's affairs. The Donnell company's troubles grew out of suits filed by its agents to recover $1000 deposits, and a fraud order issued against it by the Postoffice Department.

DANISH PAPERS TELL HOW COOK DECEIVED THEM

They Say Their Only Mistake Was in Taking His Word as Gentleman's.

EXPLORERS TAKEN IN

They Are Glad That Dishonored University Told World of Its Mistake.

By Associated Press.'

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 22.—The morning papers generally find comfort for the Cook affair in the thought that the only fault that may be charged against the Danes is that they accepted the explorer's word as that of a gentleman.

The Politiken says:

"Frankly, we regret only that an honorary degree was bestowed upon this man by the University of Copenhagen. But one member of the university council advised against the action taken."

The Koebenhavn says:

"Cook's abasing of our university is his greatest shame. Fortunately the university itself tells the world of its mistake."

Other papers recall that all the Scandinavian explorers who were acquainted with Cook, supported him, and insist that under the circumstances any other city would have given the explorer a similar reception. They intimate that at the time other cities envied Copenhagen its opportunity to first welcome and honor him.

Loose's Figures Not Considered.

Commodore Gustav Holm, a member of the university committee that examined the Cook North Pole data, is authority for the statement that the bogus statistics compiled by Capt. Loose for Cook were not a part of the stuff submitted to the university. It is announced that the university decision was made absolutely irrespective of the Loose-Dunkle statements, which the university considered beneath notice.

Inquiry as to whether the committee would undertake a further examination in the event of Cook's sending for the instruments and observations alleged to be at Etah, developed that a majority of the members were not disposed to waste any more time in the matter. It is possible that a more detailed report of the investigation may yet be made.

RASMUSSEN CALLS COOK'S PAPERS IMPUDENT

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 22.

KNUD RASMUSSEN said today: "The university would not call me at first because I was one of Dr. Cook's strongest supporters. Later, however, I was invited to the investigation, and when I saw the observations, I realized it was a scandal.

"My confidence in Cook had been based on personal impressions, on reports that I had received and also on the testimony of the Eskimos when they all said that he had made the trip from Cape Sparbo to Etah. Such a trip during the dark of winter would suffice to make a man famous. But the papers which Cook sent to Copenhagen University are most impudent. No schoolboy could make such calculations. It is a most childish attempt at cheating. Cook has killed himself by his own foolish acts."

CAPT. RAOLD AMUNDSEN said: "Nobody could feel more sorrow at the commission's crushing statement than myself, for I had learned to appreciate Cook as a devoted friend and an honest man.

"The important question now is whether he is a swindler or merely ignorant. I prefer to believe that Dr. Cook himself was confident that he had arrived at the North Pole. This must have been a fixed idea with him. If he was swindling, he must have changed his character in the last ten years."

NEW YORK PAPERS CONDEMN COOK IN STRONGEST TERMS

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Leading newspapers here, except the Herald, condemn Cook in the strongest terms. Following are extracts from leaders:

Press: The thought that any man of sound balance could project such a world-thrilling claim as Cook made, unless he believed it to be valid, is insupportable, even in the face of the fact that he capitalized it for commercial advantage.

In the season of peace and good will humanity will be disposed not to censure the victim of such a hallucination, but to sympathize with him, hurt in body and mind as he must be, as much with the afflicted poet who burst the bonds of reason the other day.

Impossible to Excuse Him.

American: It is impossible to excuse Frederick Cook or to cover his crime with charity. Flight establishes both consciousness and conscience. It robs the imposter of even the flimsy palliation of a disordered brain or a mental obsession.

The only possible basis for the claim of an unbalanced mind must rest in the self-evident folly of his falsehood.

Claim Is Not Proven.

Herald: * * * In other words the opinion of the university is that Dr. Cook's claims is not proven, which is not precisely the same thing as declaring that he did not reach the Pole, although some esteemed contemporaries hasten to give it that interpretation while others go still further and declare him to be a "fraud."

What a Magnificent Liar!

World: Since the publication of his own Munchausenisms the World has had no more faith in Cook than have his critics and denouncers; but we do not regret the kindlier course of refraining from calling him a liar in advance of an authoritative scientific decision. And what a magnificent liar he was!

Hailed by half the civilized world, welcomed by a king, greeted with an arch of triumph in his home city, mobbed by cheering thousands, he was indeed "one of the most audacious and memorable imposters in the annals of science."

Discredited by Running Away.

Sun: The truth is that Dr. Cook was thoroughly discredited before his papers were unsealed in solemn and uneasy conclave at Copenhagen. An honest man who believed in his case would not have run away. It was this scurrying of Dr. Cook into obscurity, upon the heels of challenges of his narrative by explorers and astronomers and after accusing affidavits by accomplices and parasites, that put the last damning touch to this credibility. * * *

As the first man at the North Pole Dr. Cook may have been an utter myth, but he had two months of sunshine and success as a bold and complacent imposter.

Apologies Due to Peary.

Times: * * * Nothing can ever make up to Commander Peary what this shameless swindler took from him. There is some reason to believe that the theft was calculated and planned, that the return of Cook to civilization was timed to forestall the expected announcement of Peary's discovery of the Pole. If that is true, it only adds to the infamy of the wretch.

Cook's impostures, of course, are past all palliation, but what reasonable excuse is there for those who joined in criticism and abuse of Peary because he treated the reprobate as he deserved? In the strong words Peary used in denouncing Cook there flamed up the righteous indignation of an honest man who had been robbed by a sneak thief.

The unwarranted and outrageous criticism visited upon Peary constitute one of the most unfortunate features of the controversy. The authors of them owe him an apology, profuse apologies, and they cannot be too promptly made.

COOK'S PROFITS ARE ESTIMATED AT $100,000

How much money Dr. Cook drew out of the public by his North Pole claims can be told only by himself and his managers, but it is certain that considerably more than $100,000 was spent by those who wanted to hear Cook tell just how he discovered the pole. His first important hit was when the business men of St. Louis decided to have him here in September. When Cook set his figure at $20,000 for two lectures, the committee thought it a little too high.

The doctor, whose business acumen is sharp, gradually cheapened until $14,000 was bid for him by St. Louis. Then he got a manager, a Mr. Gray, whose principal business has been in the theatrical line, and all offers were accepted, following the St. Louis opening.

But before that Cook had banked his pockets nicely. The New York Herald paid him $3000 for his first story, cabled on Sept. 1, about $1 a word. His next move was to advertise the manuscript of his book, which was to be an amplified edition of his first dispatch, about 130,000 words. Offers of nothing less than $250,000 would be even considered at first, but nothing came of it all, as Col. George Harvey of Harpers, who did think about publishing the work, decided some time ago that until Cook was in better odor with the scientists, he did not care to take over the book.

One Newspaper Pays $28,000.

So Cook sold his story to the Herald, which ran it in several installments, with a lot of pictures. Cook was paid $25,000 for that, making $28,000 he received from the Herald.

What John R. Bradley, Cook's backer, got out of the gate receipts, if anything, is unknown save to Cook and Bradley. But somebody spent money for Cook. He hired an expensive suite in the Waldorf and lived like a millionaire, though previous to his latest exploit he had been known as a very frugal and simple living man. He gave some thirty lectures all told, which netted him an average of $2500 each, it is estimated, though receipts in New York were very small. His greatest drawing power was in other cities.

Persons who claim to know, say that Cook took in over $150,000 altogether. His last known act in New York was to draw $4000 from the Carnegie Trust Co. Then he disappeared. It is also known that he redeemed a mortgage on his home in Brooklyn and he is reported to have paid many debts which he had incurred before starting for the "boreal center."

Bradley had financed him to the extent of almost $50,000, it was said, and much of Cook's earnings have gone, it is believed, to make good this money.

Dr. Cook was believed to be in Christiaan, Norway, three days ago. A cablegram was received from him there, it is said. A newspaper man who was in Dr. Cook's confidence and who traveled about the country with him while he was on his lecture tour asked him at that time what he would do if the scientists of the University of Copenhagen decided against him.

"I probably would spend the rest of my life in Greenland," replied Dr. Cook. "I like the Eskimos and I can do good work among them."

Cook's Picture to Be Taken Down.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 22.—The picture of Dr. Cook, who recently took Pittsburg by storm, has been ordered from the walls of the Chamber of Commerce. There is talk of suing Cook for the alleged obtaining of admission fees to his lecture under false pretenses.

ALIENIST REJECTS THEORY THAT DR. COOK IS INSANE

DR. MARC RAY HUGHES, alienist, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that he was not ready to accept the theory that Dr. Cook, because of his exposure in the North, or for any other reason, was suffering from a lapse of mental powers.

"I do not accept the belief that Cook is an impostor," said Dr. Hughes, "for he spent a long time in the Arctic region, and might have reached the pole, or some approximate point. If his proof is called insufficient, let it be remembered that the public knows nothing about Peary's proofs. It is principally a matter of taking the explorer's word for it, after all.

"But, assuming that the public was wrong a little while ago and is right now, and that Cook is an impostor, that does not prove him insane. Men who commit frauds are not necessarily insane. If a man commits a fraud which is certain to be found out, and to be followed by punishment, one argues that his mind cannot be very strong. But in the case of a claim of polar discovery, where it is almost impossible to disprove the claim, and where there is the prospect of a big financial gain, and where no offense against the statutes is committed, there are plenty of explanations as good as insanity.

"I did not see Dr. Cook, but I have not been led by anything he said up to the time of his disappearance to think that he was mentally unsound."

FIALA SAYS INCIDENT WARNS EXPLORERS TO BE CAREFUL

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Anthony Fiala, the Arctic explorer, who has been one of Dr. Cook's warmest supporters, joined the chorus of unbelievers today. He says:

"It's incomprehensible and inconceivable. Dr. Cook made friends everywhere he went and his friends stood by him as long as they could. It is distressing to think that such an end should come to his career.

"There is one thing that this will do. It will make it necessary in the future for explorers to be extremely careful in their work. An explorer who wishes to be believed will do well to follow Peary's example and have skilled men as the heads of supporting parties.

"There is no question of Peary's having gone to the pole. His expedition was scientifically worked out and its results show that Peary knew what he was doing.

"The Cook fiasco will eventually result in great good to the cause of exploration. It will put an end to claptrap and theatrical performances and will set the business of exploration on a firm scientific basis."

Arctic Club to Vote on Cook.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The Arctic Club of America, of which Dr. Cook is vice-president, is to hold a meeting tonight at the Engineers' Club in West Thirty-ninth street, and it will be a spirited one, for new officers are to be elected and Dr. Cook is up for re-election.

He has been a vice-president for three years and soon after he claimed to have discovered the North Pole there was talk in the club of making him president in place of Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, retired. That feeling has died out.

INVESTIGATE BALLINGER BY ALL MEANS.

Secretary Ballinger may be confident of his ability to disprove what are termed the charges against him or of the inability of his accusers to prove them. He may even be so blind to the moral obligations of a public official that he considers the matter inconsequential in its legal aspects and important only as affecting his reputation for good citizenship. Whatever his view, he has shown the proper spirit in demanding an investigation by Congress. The President's expression of confidence in his integrity or his innocence is not sufficient.

Mr. Taft seems to have been surprised that his word for it was not taken by the people. There is no reason why it should have been. The people have come to understand that the President's judgment of one of his official family is not particularly valuable. Paul Morton can't be instantly forgotten. And Mr. Taft, while popular prejudice was originally toward his sense of fairness, has lost ground in this respect since he has been in office. His treatment of Glavis, the honesty of whose intentions has not been seriously questioned, did not bring Mr. Taft new praise for fairness. Glavis was not even allowed to tell his story. The Crane case was too summarily closed and there was a similar precipitancy in the other direction in patting Ballinger on the back and also Assistant Secretary Reynolds, who was mentioned in the sugar scandals about the time he was made a member of the President's Tariff Commission.

Concern for the future of the Republican party, as well as for conservation, legislation and appropriations, may have prompted a demand for the investigation, but a searching, public, frank inquiry is obviously the only way to silence the clamors of the opinionated, or remove the doubts of those who have withheld a verdict pending the appearance of accurate information. The Taft administration is in quite as great need of the investigation as Mr. Ballinger.

OUR EXCLUSIVE SET.

According to the Social Register marriage is not so popular in the exclusive set of St. Louis as in the past. And the exclusive sets of other cities show a much greater fondness for the holy estate of matrimony than appears in this city.

There were 93 marriages in 1909 as against 98 in 1908. Boston, with a smaller population, which, however, does not necessarily prove that she has fewer exclusive people, reports 144 and Washington 147.

St. Louis is too conservative. It is too hard to get into the exclusive set. There are probably 700,000 people, at the very least, in the inclusive set and vast numbers of these are struggling with might and main to push into the "charmed circle" and be exclusive. If the rules regulating admission are very strict or the initiation fee is very high the exclusive set will have the satisfaction of growing mellowly more exclusive, but there will be a plentiful lack of babies. That seems to be a sort of natural consequence of exclusiveness, anyhow. It is noticed that the most exclusive people tend to exclude babies as well as aspirants from the regions where the inclusive people inhabit.

The choice is not pleasant, but it must be made. It is fine to be exclusive. But when exclusiveness becomes isolation the mercury falls. In the exclusive world it is chilly at the warmest, and when the currents of warm human sympathy are cut off it grows cold indeed. Perhaps, all things considered, inclusiveness with its store of rich life and feeling is the better state. There are more brides and babies there per head of population.

A HERETIC AT LARGE.

Rabbi Harrison's theory that, to qualify for the trade of criticism the man must go frequently to the theater, study plays and learn all he can about the subject is contrary to the best and most widely approved opinion.

One of the old-time Edinburgh reviewers said he never read a book that he was called upon to review and criticise because it would be fatal to impartiality. His rule was to glance through the table of contents and the index and then go at it.

This may be called the golden rule of criticism. Don't become too familiar with the object of your criticism. It applies to all forms of art, literature, painting, scripture, the drama, etc. The less you know of it the more forcibly and eloquently you can praise or denounce a work of art.

The practical value of this rule lies in the fact that it saves authority and operates as a protection, for a time at least, against innovations which raise questions already settled. This is to play with fire, for when people ignore authority in one branch of human work they are sure to go on and ignore it in other branches. So we are exposed to innovation on all sides, and soon no man knows where he is at.

Rabbi Harrison is a heretic. The faggots should be brought in without delay.

ABOLISH THE LOBBY.

The report that the retirement of Col. William H. Phelps from the legal department of the Missouri Pacific does not mean the abolition of the railroad lobby and a radical change of policy with regard to legislative influences, but merely a change of lobby management, is a grievous disappointment. The Post-Dispatch indulged the belief that the Missouri Pacific and other railroad managers had gained wisdom from the experience of past years in the matter of attempting to control legislation at Jefferson City through a professional lobby.

The railroad lobby at the State capital and in politics has been a heavy burden for the railroad corporations to bear. Its work and influence has been disastrous to the railroad interests. It has been the prolific cause of corruption and scandal. The lobby combine, composed of the lobbyists and their legislative and political tools has been responsible for practically all the villainy in the Legislature and in the party organizations. Having been formed for the purpose of corruptly influencing legislation, it has used its power for all the special interests which feared adverse legislation or wanted legislative favors. It has used its power for and against the interests which it was formed to promote. Although deriving its original support from the railroads, it has originated anti-railroad measures to prove the necessity of its existence and to fry out the fat. It has sandbagged and bled the railroads.

But the worst effect of the lobby has been its effect on public opinion. It has enraged the people and alienated powerful elements which would otherwise have defended the railroads from unjust legislation. Honest men, honest newspapers have found it difficult and dangerous to plead for justice to the railroads, because of the taint of the lobby. It has claimed all the supporters of the railroads as its tools. The abolition of the lobby would be an act of inestimable benefit to the railroads and the people of the State.

MOB LAW AND DIPLOMACY.

A few weeks ago a mob in Tennessee, raging to lynch a negro, was addressed by the Judge of the court to which the negro had been brought for trial. "Leave this man to the justice of the law," said the Judge. "He shall be promptly tried and the law vindicated." The mob leaders halted their followers and reflected a moment. Then they said to the Judge: "We will leave this negro to the Court for trial, provided you give us assurance he will be hanged without delay."

That grim story was received by the American people with something of a smile at the mob logic that agreed to let a man have a trial only upon assurance given beforehand that he should be hanged. Back of the smile, however, there was a sense of profound discontent that American courts and American law have to stop and compromise with such logic and injustice. With derision and with abhorrence, therefore, did the public pronounce judgment upon that story of lynch law, and condemn at once the violence of the mob and the weakness of the officers of the State.

That was a story of a mob. Consider now the story of diplomacy as it is being played out in Washington. A resolution submitted to the House of Representatives says: "The United States does hereby demand the arrest, trial and punishment of Zelaya by an impartial tribunal in Nicaragua for the willful murder of citizens of the United States."

What is the difference in logic or in justice between a demand that Zelaya shall be punished for murder by an "impartial tribunal," and the demand of lynchers that a judge give assurance beforehand that an impartial trial of an accused negro, should result in hanging him?

Far be it from us to imply that a House of Representatives submissive to Speaker Cannon is a mob; or that a diplomacy instituted and sustained by Secretary of State Knox is only a modified form of lynch law. All that we mean to show or to imply by bringing the two stories together in this way is that there is a notable similarity between the demands of lynch law and that of our diplomacy.

THE COOK VERDICT.

Either Dr. Cook reached the North Pole and can't prove it, or Dr. Cook didn't reach the North Pole. The result is the same in either case between him and the world of science. It is the assumption that he submitted to the Danish scientists the best evidence he had and the best evidence was found by men kindly inclined toward him to be no evidence at all. His admirers may explain that his proofs are still buried in the ice at Etah and his two Eskimo companions are beyond reach; but this is poor consolation.

The astonishing thing is that Dr. Cook's notebooks contain no original calculations or records of observations. As to his instruments, the story of their burial at Etah is the only proof that he had any. The evidence he presented is not only inadequate; it is farcical.

The conclusion is inevitable that as a faker Dr. Cook is a sad failure. But it is inconceivable that a man who had been a member of numerous exploring expeditions; who had been on familiar terms with scientists and had contributed to the sum of geographical knowledge, could be so blind to the uses of scientific instruments and so ignorant of the value of simple observations, such as any navigator makes, as not to have made the necessary observations and kept the necessary records. No man, bent on perpetrating a colossal fraud, could have been so slatternly about the evidence of his claimed achievement. It would have been quite the opposite. Sanely contemplating a deception, records mathematically perfect might have been strong evidence of their dishonesty. It is the ridiculous lack of evidence which surprises and permits us to take a charitable view of Cook.

He was so poor a faker that he becomes no faker at all. Mental irresponsibility has been suggested. This would not be surprising. There is no doubt he underwent mind-wrecking hardships. Peary's trip was a pleasant excursion in comparison. The influence of the frozen wastes on the human mind is well known. A hundred explorers have testified to it. The Eskimos are subject to aberrations. They call it the "crazy sickness." In Alaska it is called "Arctic lunacy."

The case must stand where the Danes have left it—"not proved." The laurels are Peary's and his was the real tragedy. For, in failing to win himself, Dr. Cook succeeded in robbing Peary of the first fruits of his glory.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Terminal Expenses and Arbitrary.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The trouble with Mr. McChesney's statement is that it is an attempt to justify the capitalization and bonding of a railroad terminal as an undertaking independent of the main line of which such a terminal forms a part. Unfortunately, the Terminal Association is the result of a gradual evolution from this premise which was economically wrong to start with.

It is practicable for the roads forming the association to arrive at an equitable basis of distributing among themselves all expenses of maintaining their association. All compensation that they should ask they receive through economy of combined terminals.

The serious aspect with reference to the abolishment of the arbitrary on coal is the fact that the coal mines of Illinois, as such, do not pay, but that in many instances most, if not all, their profits are derived from the prorating on coal freights with the Terminal Association.

GEORGE W. SWAFFORD.

Thinks Single Tax a Panacea.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Some Single Taxers laud the single tax doctrine of Henry George, and yet say that the single tax is not a panacea (a universal remedy) for the ills of government. I think these good people either misunderstand the single tax or the meaning of panacea.

I have read and reread all of the works of Henry George, and after doing so I read the bill of rights of our Missouri Constitution, the fundamental law of our State, and I find all the works and writings of Henry George condensed therein and made the chief, foremost and fundamental cornerstone of constitutional government.

"Section 4—Purpose of Government—Natural Rights of Persons.—That all constitutional government is intended to promote the general welfare of the people; that all persons have a natural right to life, liberty, and the enjoyment of the gains of their own industry; that to give security to these things is the principal office of government, and that when government does not confer this security, it fails of its chief design."

Just as soon as we get public officials who understand and are honest enough to obey their oath of office, we will have the single tax (the panacea and universal remedy) for all curable ills of government; for incurable ills there is no panacea.

VICTOR GEBHARDT.

Choose the Best Man.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Is the office of United States District Attorney at St. Louis only a political plum to be fought for and awarded to the man or clique which has the strongest "push" or "pull?" Why is it necessary that the new appointee should be either Mr. Houts, Harry Hawes' partner, or Mr. Newton, a fresh importation from—I don't know where? Are there not others? Does not the theory of the civil service rules apply to that office as well as elsewhere? Is the appointment to that office only a test of the relative political strength of Senator Warner from Kansas City or St. Joseph, or Postmaster Akins, from here, Maryville, or of ex-Boss Jep Howe, or is it to be determined in the interest of the public by the selection of the best man for the place? Why should not the usual rule of promotion for merit be followed?

Is there not some man who has been associated with Mr. Blodgett and familiar with the duties of the office who is better qualified than any stranger? Are there not still others? Is anyone to be considered besides the bosses and officeholders or officeseekers? These questions and their like are pertinent and will demand an answer sometime.

REPUBLICAN.

A German Example.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

We boast so much about doing things in this country for reform and the uplift of mankind and liberty that we fail to see that we are doing very little in comparison to other countries. According to the Berlin correspondent of the New York Evening Post "The history of the land reform movement in Germany is an illuminating example of an economic principle winning the upper hand solely on the merits of the appeal it made to men's common sense. Over twenty years ago men first began to preach Henry George's gospel in Germany and a land league was formed. In 1895 this was turned into the "Bund der Bodenreformer," with Herr Adolf Damaschke as chairman, whose little work, "Die Bodenreform," is more than anything else responsible for the immense progress the movement has made in modern Germany. Today, with 640,000 members, the bund can look with righteous pride on what its agitation has accomplished."

According to the above government memorandum, up to the end of 1908, 133 cities and communes and five counties in the German Empire had adopted the unearned increment tax (land value tax), including 15 cities with more than 100,000 inhabitants, of which may be mentioned Hamburg, with over 800,000; Breslau, with close on half a million; Leipzig, Cologne and Frankfort-am-Main, the influence of the league has increased in proportion, and the Government has frequently followed its suggestions, notably with regard to its land policy in the German-African colonies and mortgage legislation at home—for simplicity and equity, morality and prosperity, this tax system of taxing land values is the only thing on earth.

"WELL, THE COOK'S FIRED!"

PEARY

DOCTORS WHO CAN CURE FOOTBALL.

From Harper's Weekly.

There came over from Washington the other day the story of a Virginia woman whose two boys were to play in a football game in Washington, and who was very uneasy at the prospect. She was anxious and so much troubled that she finally slipped away from home on the morning of the game and went to Washington herself. There she went to a hotel and waited. The time of the game passed, and nothing seemed to have happened. She took courage and prepared to go home. To make sure, she telephoned to get news of the game and of her boys. Alas! she got back word that one of her sons had gone to the hospital, in an ambulance, seriously injured. The injury was serious indeed. The boy's neck was broken. He died almost immediately.

Dr. Hadley, Dr. Lowell, Dr. Wilson, don't you think football, as it was played this year, is a little rough? There had been 27 deaths up to Nov. 21, gentlemen, and a multitude of injuries, and the dying was not all done at that time. Many of the deaths had come from injuries received in previous years. Many injuries received this year will kill in a little time.

You could stop this kind of football if you chose, you three men. The mothers can't, poor souls. They cannot make mollycoddles of the boys they have borne and reared. The fathers can't do much. But you, if you thought it wise and were agreed, could stop the kind of football that has been played this year, and that has trebled the death rate. You could either throw out the game entirely, as Dr. Butler did at Columbia, or you could make Walter Camp and the other rules experts give over a part of their solicitude to save the game and exercise their wits a little to save the boys.

You could do it if you chose. You have the power—the moral power, if no other, and having the moral power, it is for you to consider in how far you have the moral responsibility.

TOM JOHNSON'S "FAILURE."

From the New York World.

Tom Johnson will go out of office on Dec. 30 after eight years as Mayor of Cleveland, O., and after a somewhat longer fight with the local street railway companies for 3-cent fares. He was beaten in the election last month. Perhaps Cleveland was a little tired of the protracted struggle. At any rate the news of his "failure" was telegraphed over the country and caused much comment. The 3-cent campaign had previously met with legal and other reverses.

Mr. Johnson may have been demagogic in his methods. The voters of Ohio repudiated him for Governor by 113,000 votes in 1903, when he was nearly at the height of his local popularity. But to describe his political career as a "failure" is to ignore the solid results of his eight years of work. It has rather been such a success as to entitle him to grateful remembrance.

At a time when the prospect seems almost hopeless of "squeezing the water out" of even the bankrupted street railways of New York, Cleveland has obtained a legal valuation of its lines, franchise included, at $22,932,000. Each inhabitant of Cleveland is expected to pay by his street car fares interest or dividends on less than $60.

Mayor Johnson's campaign may have failed. So far as getting a straight 3-cent fare with free transfer it has. But New York City would like to enjoy an equally advantageous "failure."

OUR NIGHT SCHOOL FOR BANKERS.

TEACHER (calling the class in arithmetic): The class will go to the blackboard and work the following example: A has $75 which he wishes to increase to $100. He goes to a pawnshop, where he pawns the $75 for $50. Then he sells the ticket to B for $50. B redeems the $75. Who gained, and who lost?

FIRST BANKER (after fifteen minutes): I have it.

TEACHER: What is it?

FIRST BANKER: The pawnbroker lost $150.

SECOND BANKER: He did nothing of the kind. The pawnbroker made $10.

TEACHER (watching the third banker, who is still figuring): How does the pawnbroker stand where you are right now?

THIRD BANKER (shaking his head): He has just made an assignment. (Laughter.)

TEACHER (observing that the fourth banker has just put down a sum in eight figures): Is that the answer or the national debt?

FOURTH BANKER (mopping his brow): It is what B was out before he cashed the pawn ticket.

FIFTH BANKER: None of them have it right. A, who began with $75, got $50 from the pawnbroker and $50 from B. Therefore, A was the gainer by $25. B and the pawnbroker came out even.

TEACHER: Did they, indeed?

SIXTH BANKER: Not on your life. The pawnbroker came out even, but B lost (resumes figuring aloud: 2 and 2 make 7, carry 1; 6 and 8 are 26, 3 is 30, and 12 is 50.) B lost $50.

FIRST BANKER: I have another answer now. The pawnbroker did not lose $150, as I first said he did. He lost $1500.

TEACHER: How many of the class think the pawnbroker gained? (Counting the uplifted hands): One-two-three-four. How many think the pawnbroker was the loser? One-two-three-four-five. (Announcing the decision) The pawnbroker was the loser. Now, how many of the class think he lost as much as $1500? One-two-three-four. How many think he lost less than $1500? Only one. (Announcement.) The pawnbroker lost about $2500, of which A, who was a bank official, got $2,499.77, and B, who was a bank clerk, got 23 cents. Tomorrow night we will try to discover the age of Ann.

Visitor to the Governor's office: So you've given up getting a better nickname for Missouri than Show-Me?

Governor Hadley: Yes.

Visitor: What was the matter?

Governor Hadley (laughing): The matter was that I was unable to show them anything the matter with the nickname we have.

Answers to Questions From Readers of the Post-Dispatch.

Write but one question. No bets decided. Business addresses not given. Legal questions must be simple. Address "Answers," Post-Dispatch, using postal cards when convenient.

EVANS.—Use only the cartridges as numbered.

MABEL.—No harm to send him a Christmas card.

ELLA.—For Christmas cakes see Answers Dec. 19.

P. L. T. D.—Sec. 5459 R. S., requires physicians to make out death certificates.

LAMBERT.—E. A. Chenery, Liggett Building, is Missouri Pacific superintendent of telegraph operators.

C. G.—Contractor for new City Hospital, excluding administration building and boiler room, Frederick Boeke.

J. J. B.—Camphor and coal oil do not make an explosive combination. Astral oil is one of the petroleum oils.

B. B. P.—Heat or any good liniment may relieve stiffness and soreness of muscles after exercising. Get used to the exercise.

VIOLET.—May the house be warm and the hearts be warm. The flowers bloom for aye. May sweet content be with us all And never fade away.

ROLLA.—Without license you cannot lawfully hunt on your friend's farm, even if he consents. Rabbits are not mentioned in the game law.

INFORMATION.—As the Illinois game law does not protect rabbits you would not be molested in carrying that kind of game to Missouri.

SAVER.—An electrician says your diagram is right. Phone book stores or try Public Library for books. Some electrical establishment might recommend one.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.—Brush and leaves are placed over myrtle to keep it from freezing; we don't know about sack. Cactus will "come to" if it has not been entirely frozen.

CLAYTON.—Lime water: Agitate 1 oz. pure caustic lime in a pint bottle nearly filled with water, and after the lime has subsided decant the clear liquid. Keep in well-stoppered bottle.

RAHM.—By legislation for interstate commerce Congress may stop the shipment of liquor. Prohibition can only become national when every State has adopted it or the Constitution is amended.

LYDIA.—No boy can legally marry in Missouri or Illinois without consent of parent or guardian unless he is 21 years old. A boy who would swear falsely might some day prove false to his bride.

VIOLET.—We have no record of a common-law husband, deserting his common-law wife, being punished for bigamy on marrying another woman. No woman should ever consent to a common-law marriage.

E. Z.—For hollow cheeks, see that your liver and digestion are right, then try the fattening foods (starchy, sweet, oily, fatty), which have so often been published in this column. Practice deep breathing of pure air.

R. C. W.—Your violin inscription means: "Johannes Baptista Guadaguini of Cremona pupil of Antoni Stradivarius, made this in Turin." If the 1381 means the year, it is rather early, as Stradivarius was not then born.

WILL.—In New York, when a couple is separated by divorce, the guilty party is not allowed to remarry. After five years of good conduct, however, the guilty one may marry. Or he or she may step over into New Jersey and marry as soon as he is divorced.

T. BURK.—Air containing an abnormal quantity of oxygen would be highly stimulating to life, increasing nervous tension and heart action. For a humorous, semi-scientific study of the effect of oxygen on living beings read Jules Verne's clever romance, "Dr. Ox's Experiment."

DONALD.—The ship subsidy bill provides for subsidies to steamships owned by Americans and conducting a foreign trade. Its alleged purpose is the building of a merchant marine to compete with vessels of other nations. The subsidy is to be given with the understanding that the ships may be used by the Government in time of war.

J. W.—Colored schools in St. Louis: Day high schools 1, grade day schools 10. Enrollment, day high, 386; day grade, 5351. Children in city not enrolled in day schools, 2243. There are also 3 evening schools for negroes, with an enrollment of 498. High school classes are taught at one of these. Colored population St. Louis estimated, 40,000. Some estimates are higher.

BLERIOT.—Not much danger in making hydrogen gas for balloon if you are careful. Dilute sulphuric acid with water by slowly pouring acid into water. The combination develops considerable heat, and if done rapidly heat may break vessel. After the liquid cools, add scraps of zinc or iron to produce gas. Pass gas through vessel of water before allowing it to enter balloon.

DAISY.—Under the circumstances you can sue administrator for wrongfully paying your share in the estate to your brother, providing you have not given him a receipt in full upon receiving final amount. You can get a copy of administrator's accounting by writing to Probate Court of the county in Ohio where proceedings took place on payment of a small fee. Should you sue you cannot include attorney's fee. If you have receipted to administrator and your brother refuses to make good you can have him arrested for embezzlement.

L. W. O.—Merkle lost the game between New York and Chicago in the latter part of the season of 1908 because he failed to touch second base. It was the last half of the ninth inning, the score a tie, two men out and New York at bat. Merkle was on first and another runner on third. The batter hit safely to the outfield, the runner on third trotted home with what seemed the winning run and Merkle trotted to the clubhouse instead of going to second. The ball was returned to second base, thus forcing Merkle out and retiring the side, so the run from third did not count. It was a tie game and when played over, after the season ended, Chicago won.

P. H.—Coldest day of the winter of 1908-9, Jan. 31—1 degree below zero.

READER.—To test diamond: put it into a leaden or platinum cup with some powdered fluor-spar and a little oil of vitriol; warm the vessel with lighted charcoal, in a fireplace, or where there is a strong draft to carry away the noxious vapors. When the vapors have ceased rising let the whole cool, and then stir the mixture with a glass rod to fish out the stone. If it is found intact it is a genuine diamond. If it is an imitation it will be corroded by the hydrofluoric acid that has been generated around it. A small "paste diamond" would disappear altogether under this treatment. This is the test by Masimo Levi, an Italian chemist.

LEGAL.—See Notary's Manual, by B. F. Rex (Gilbert Book Co., St. Louis). Notaries are appointed by the Governor. Bond of $2000 required; bond of $1000 in counties of more than 100,000 inhabitants; two good sureties; law does not specify qualifications. Total cost, $26.50. Write Secretary of State for application blank. The knowledge required by a notary public depends upon the many things he intends to undertake. If merely for the convenience of some office, that office will probably know the legal requirements and do the instructing; if general notarial work is contemplated, knowledge of the law is absolutely necessary, as a misstep or error may be costly; to insure the public against this is one reason why the State requires of him a bond.

SOCIETY AND THE OPERA

Metropolitan Social Swimmers as They Appear in Their Great Public Function

As told in Harper's Bazar

By RALPH PULITZER

RALPH PULITZER continues in the latest Harper's Bazar to hammer New York society with t brilliance shown in his December article in the same periodical. He says, discussing society and the Opera:

THE dinner being leisurely completed, the hostess remarks dubiously to her husband that she supposes the men might perhaps smoke their cigars on the way to the opera. This is probably more from a kindly desire to free the women from one another's society in the drawing-room than from any desire to reach the opera earlier, but the men always acquiesce, and pile into one carriage or automobile with their cigars and cigarettes, while the ladies enjoy one another's company in another vehicle.

THEY quickly reach the opera, and walk up one flight of stairs to the distant muffled murmurs of the orchestra and an occasional high note from one of the singers, loud enough to force its way out to them. These solitary and sudden notes, robbed of all musical quality by the inaudibility of their context, sound as if some sublimated butcher-shop within were being operated to slow music. But one of the guests, at some unusually penetrating scream, is sure to breathe, 'Ah!' (as she hastens her steps up the stairs); 'Ah!' in tones of tender and preposterous appreciation. Why she does it she could not herself explain, for she has not the least intention of listening to the music when she reaches the box. It is probably done from the same instinct that would make her honestly declare, if questioned, that she was devoted to music or to children, although she might not know a fugue in one from a whooping-cough out of the other. A curious traditional attribute of her sex, this devotion to music and children, which she still feels it seemly to subscribe to in theory.

THE curtain rattles aside, down to the front of the box sweeps a radiance of satin a scintillation of diamonds, a luster of pearls, a glow of rubies, a wanness of skin, a palpitation of fat: Society has reached the opera.

In the front of each box sit either two or three ladies; behind them sit either three or four men—each box party consists, therefore, of from five to seven persons. No unsophisticated spectator, surveying such a party, sitting together in ceremonious ease, would guess what a triumph of artifice each natural grouping represents, any more than a layman admiring da Vinci's Madonna of the Grotto realizes the rigid bounds of an equilateral triangle which have been mechanically employed to create its graceful composition.

WHAT, then, since love of music is negligible are the rules of composition which the average hostess follows in making up her box party? It is impossible to give a satisfactory answer; the formula is a secret one. All that we definitely know is that the hostess invites her guests because she wishes to extend them the compliment of sharing her box; that her guests accept because they wish to enjoy this compliment. Yet sharing her box is a compliment only because other hostesses have asked other guests for the same reason, and for the same reason other guests have accepted. The box parties go because the opera is fashionable; the opera is fashionable because the box parties go. Which is the cause, and which the effect? Which came first, the egg or the goose?

OUR hostess, after the first preliminary sweep of her opera glasses, postpones the more delicate scrutiny and leans back to enjoy a moment's passive satisfaction. For she has already seen enough to know that her party, in membership and adornment, has no superior among the other boxes. Has she not, sitting next her, the beautiful Englishwoman whose ambitious indiscretions are admitted to be regal in their field of operation, who is spending a few weeks in New York, and who is most fastidious in her acceptance of invitations? Has she not placed next to this quasi-royal guest her own lovely stepdaughter by her husband's divorced wife, an act of maternal solicitude which she could not have improved on if the girl had been her own daughter by her divorced husband? Is not her English guest a dazzling marvel in dress and jewels? Is not her lovely stepdaughter a shimmering triumph of extravagant simplicity—her dress, her dog collar, her demeanor all virginally quiet, obviously most expensive? Is not her own appearance the most incomparably splendid which taste and money can provide.

She is proud of the appearance of her box, she is delighted at the appearance of the other women. For the opera has lifted her to such dizzy heights of artificiality that she has left the woman far below and is now but the disembodied hostess. She does not resent the splendor of the women next her, she does not wish to eclipse them, she does not fear their eclipsing he: she is perfectly willing, if need be, to shine in reflected jewels. All for which she yearns is that they will collaborate with her to make her box the most brilliant at the opera.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

Translated for the Post-Dispatch
BY HELEN ROWLAND.

HELEN ROWLAND

VERILY, verily, my Daughter, NO woman is a HEROINE unto a BELLBOY!

Who seeth her in all her guises and DISGUISES?

Who holdeth the secrets of her heart and findeth her out in all her little WAYS?

Even HE that weareth brass buttons and the expression of Napoleon crossing the Alps!

Behold, when he ushereth in her PET man and leadeth him to her door, he thinketh in his heart:

"Poor Fool! WHY dost worship her and bow down before her? For she hath feet of clay, and I have SEEN them in her morning slippers!

"Yea, I have seen her in a kimono and WITHOUT her complexion at 8 a. m.

"I have observed her wearing seven curling kids, when the REST of her hair lay upon the dressing case. And she was NOT ALWAYS as she is when thou callest.

"Lo, peradventure, thou dost not KNOW that she hath ALL her breakfasts in bed. Yea, I have carried them up and she hath tipped me TEN CENTS.

"Yet, when thou comest she flasheth diamonds and is SO vivacious!

"Behold, I have buttoned her dresses up the back unto seven times seven; and I say unto thee, on each of these there were an hundred buttons and fourscore hooks and eyes.

"Thy work is prepared for thee; but as for ME, I shall clean mine OWN safety razor all the days of my life. Yea, I shall remain a bachelor.

"Lo, how SWEETLY she greeteth thee! Yet, when I have dropped the ice water upon her front breadth, I charge thee, her voice is not ALWAYS of silver.

"Nay, she is not always SPIRITUELLE.

"Go to, thou Simple One! Dost thou fancy thou art the ONLY one? For, though thou comest on Mondays and Wednesdays, there is ANOTHER more foolish than thou who cometh on Tuesdays and Thursdays, bringing her burnt offerings.

"And for HIM, even as for thee, she weareth her best hair and the smile that will not come off. Yea, he, too, sendeth her roses, and HIS flower boxes are larger than thine!

"Oh, feed me with sandwiches and stay me with lemon pie! For I am sick of women! Yea, in all their folly have I known them, and I say unto thee, not ONE liveth that is worthy of a bellboy's admiration.

"Verily, verily, they make me tired, and I am already quite blase!" Selah!

HYPNOTISM IN LOVE

Dr. I. K. Funk Says That Every Person Who Arouses Our Emotions Uses "Suggestion."

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH.

"HYPNOTISM is a part of all love, of all happy marriages. I should think it might be used effectively in treating the divorce evil. But the only suggestion, in my opinion, that is permanent in its results is auto-suggestion, the cure a man works in himself by resistance to temptation."

NIXOLA GREELEY SMITH

This is the opinion of the Rev. Dr. I. K. Funk, author of "The Widow's Mite," "The Psychic Riddle" and one of the best-known "spook chasers" in America.

I had asked Dr. Funk what he thought of Prof. James Hyslop's plan for the establishment of an American Institute for Scientific Research wherein marital dissensions are to be treated, and which Dr. John Duncan Quackenbos had indorsed.

"I am not such an enthusiast on suggestion as Dr. Quackenbos," Dr. Funk remarked, "though, of course, he is a noted authority on the subject.

"Dr. Hillis of Plymouth Church told me the other day that he had sent several men to Quackenbos to be treated by suggestion for the drink habit and that they had been cured.

"I believe that any permanent change in the character of a human being must come from within himself, from his own conscious struggle against temptation.

Do You Own Hypnotising.

"I should think that in cases of dissension between husband and wife the husband could treat her or she him better than an outsider, though I fear most of us already give too much attention to treating the faults of others and not enough to our own.

"But between a husband and wife there already exists a certain element of hypnotism, not entirely physical, not entirely mental nor simply compounded of those two attractions. I believe there is a third influence of personality on personality. Just as thought travels in ether, so I think personality travels through some medium much higher than the thought flow, which we have not yet discovered.

"We communicate our thoughts at present through sound, which travels as you know, slowly. But the spiritual influences of personality may travel with infinite speed faster even than light, which is at the rate of something under 190,000 miles a second.

"This poem of personality accounts for the influence of a good woman on her husband. There is hypnotism, suggestion in it, though, of course, it is not consciously exercised. In the gradual adjustment which comes about in the happiest marriage, and which makes its later years more peaceful than the honeymoon, the result of this influence of personality on personality is seen. Call it hypnotism or suggestion, as you like. We use the word hypnotism so loosely and it covers so many things.

Hypnotism and Success.

"There is hypnotism in every love affair, on both sides, too. Great orators are hypnotic. Henry Ward Beecher was in this sense one of the greatest hypnotists that ever lived. Successful actors are hypnotists. All successful business men are 'suggestionists.' Good book agent are hypnotists."

"I should say so!" I exclaimed. "A man actually sold me a set of books today by an author whose complete works I possess already!"

"Ah, indeed!" laughed Dr. Funk, the president of the publishing company quite eclipsing for the moment the student of psychic influence. "Let me have that young man's name—we might need him!

"I do not believe in divorce except in very rare cases," he added, reverting to the less commercial subject. "I think people should stick together for the sake of their children.

"You know I believe so much in the silent influence of personality that I think if a father or mother does a mean action it affects their children, no matter how carefully it be concealed from them."

TOYTOWN NEWS

By Wireless to the Post-Dispatch

By DAISY MILLER

III.—A FIRE IN TOYTOWN.

THE big, fat Policeman was standing in front of the Window of Toytown looking to see if there was anything new there which had not seen before.

The German Doll was gone, but the big Boy Doll was in his place just the same, and he seemed to look very lonely.

In the back part of Toytown the Fire Department stood ready to rush out on the least alarm.

Part of the firemen were in the window to see that the Christmas tree did not catch fire.

"Things are very quiet now, are they not?" asked the Red Chief of the Driver of the Hook and Ladder.

"Yes, they seem to be, but I have plenty to do, taking care of my beautiful horses," said the Driver.

Just then the electric bell began to ring and the firemen all ran to their stations.

The horses ran under the harnesses and soon they were out on the streets of Toytown with a clanging of bells and a shouting that could be heard outside.

"It's the window! It's the window!" said the Man on the Hose Cart to his companions as he put on his toy helmet.

Sure enough!

The smoke was curling up around the Brown Monkey, and the Stuffed Cat was so frightened she did not know what to do.

Such a screaming you never heard.

All the dolls were making as loud a noise as they could.

The Red and Gold Rooster began to crow, although it was not on the hour. While Bessie, the biggest doll in Toyland, was waving her arms and shouting:

"There goes the bell again! It must be the second alarm."

"I smell smoke," said the real Policeman on the outside of the Toytown window. "Mercy sakes! one of the doll's dresses is on fire. I must turn in an alarm!"

And he rushed down the street to send for the real firemen.

He returned just in time to break in the door and rescue the Boy Doll from the flames.

COL. TODHUNTER OF MISSOURI

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS

(Copyright, 1909, by Ripley D. Saunders.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTER.

Col. Todhunter organizes a big public reception for his friend, Col. "Bill" Strickland, returning from his Nineveh home from St. Louis after announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Missouri. At a barbecue-dinner given by the Nineveh Daughters of the Confederacy Col. Todhunter vigorously campaigns for Col. "Bill" Strickland. Hearing that Tom Strickland, drinking, has provoked Stamford Tucker into a dangerous quarrel, Col. Todhunter finds Tom in a saloon and tries to avert a personal encounter between the two. Helping Sim Birdsong elope with Miss Angelica Exol, he has a terrifying experience with the girl's mother. Lottie-May Doggett, publicly shamed at the hop given by the Nineveh Sons of Confederate Veterans, names Tom Strickland as being responsible for her wrongdoing. Tom Strickland threatens to force Stanford Tucker into confessing that it was he, not Tom, who wronged Lottie-May Doggett. The next morning Stamford Tucker's dead body is found on a lonely road. Tom Strickland, arrested on suspicion, believes he killed Tucker when "crazy drunk," but has no recollection of what happened. Lottie-May Doggett reiterates her charge against Tom. Col. Todhunter is suddenly notified by old "Aunt Mirandy" Ransom that a dangerous task awaits him in his effort to save Tom Strickland from the gallows.

CHAPTER XIV.

State of Missouri vs. Thomas W. Strickland—for Murder.

THERE was no response when, on the following morning, Col. Todhunter's name was called with those of other witnesses summoned to testify in the case of the State of Missouri versus Thomas W. Strickland, charged with the murder of Stamford Tucker.

Nor had there been any answer when the name of Lottie-May Doggett was reached earlier on the list.

The Sheriff was instructed to send a deputy in search of the two missing witnesses and the counsel for the prosecution and defense announced their readiness for trial. It was known that the Court insisted upon the hearing being held with as little delay as was possible, the docket being crowded and many cases remaining to be disposed of during the present term.

There was plainly sounded a note of peculiar confidence, almost like jubilation, in the swift announcement of the State's readiness. Col. "Bill" Strickland, gray and pinched of face, recognized its menace. His grim lips broke their rigid lines piteously as Tom was brought into court and took his seat confronting the jury.

At the same moment a swift flash of anticipated triumph leaped into the eyes of old Ephriam Tucker, sitting with the State's counsel. Tom's father saw this and his jaws set hard at the sight.

"They're feeling pretty sure of a conviction," he whispered to Maj. Gentry Dryden. "Is it likely they've obtained evidence against Tom that we don't know anything about?"

The lawyer shook his head. "I hardly think so," he replied. "We've got a line on all their witnesses, I believe. I can't figure out how they'll be able to spring a surprise on us."

But one sinister sentence in the prosecuting attorney's opening statement to the jury undeceived him.

"We shall prove, gentlemen, beyond a reasonable doubt," the State's counsel said, "the motive which, we claim, led Thomas W. Strickland to slay Stamford Tucker, and then"—moving a step nearer to the jury and lifting one hand impressively—"having proved this, we shall establish, by the testimony of an eye-witness, the fact of Thomas W. Strickland's presence at the scene of the murder at the time of its commission."

Maj. Gentry Dryden, in spite of himself, started at hearing this crushing announcement. Something of fierce resentment, pathetic in its impotency, showed in Col. Strickland's grizzled countenance. Tom's face, a helpless perplexity in his eyes, went deadly white.

The atmosphere became tense with the sudden dramatic "grip" of the situation thus created.

And then the hearing of testimony for the State began.

It went forward with relentless precision and despatch, a certainty and rapidity so well ordered as to be overwhelming in moral effect.

The evidence was cruelly against Tom Strickland almost from the start. It placed the burden of guilt as heavily upon him as was possible, save in the event of his having been seen at the spot where the murder was committed.

The prosecuting attorney turned, smiling, from a whispered consultation with old Ephraim Tucker.

"Call Abraham L. Tolliver!" he said.

A negro man about 40 years of age took the stand in answer to the Sheriff's cry. He seemed frightened and reluctant to testify. He stated that he was on his way to his fishing camp in the Black Bottoms on the night of the murder.

"Now, Abram,"—and the prosecuting attorney straightened to his full height and spoke with especial earnestness—"I want you to tell the jury exactly what happened to you on your way to your camp in the Black Bottoms that night. Tell it in your own way, just as it happened."

The witness looked at his questioner with apprehension in his childlike eyes.

The witness began in a low voice.

"Dey wan't nothin' happened to me 'twell I come nigh to dat-ar hog-path what cuts off inter de bottoms," he said. "Dess fo' I got dar, suh, I heern shootin'. One shot, and den annurr', hit seem lak ter me, suh. I was skeered when I hear dat-ar shootin' and seem lak I better not go on ter whar I sho' ter run smack into it, Mistah Cromwell—yass, suh, I'se a-tellin' it ter de jury, suh. So huccome I done hid in de brush side o' de road, suh, layin' flat on de groun'. And dar I stayed, suh."

The witness hesitated.

"Go on," said the prosecuting attorney. "Tell the jury precisely what happened next."

"I lay dar, lak I say," resumed the witness, "when, all of a sudden lak, a man come down de road f'um whar I heern de shootin'. He pass straight by me on de road, and he seem to be staggerin' lak. He was talkin' to hisse'f as he pass whar I was hidin' in de brush. He had his pistol swingin' in his hand, suh, lak a man what too excited to put it back atter he use it, suh."

The prosecuting attorney moved a step nearer the witness.

"You saw that man plainly, Abe?" he asked. "You got a good look at his face?"

"Yass, suh. Hit was a bright moonlight night. I seen dat-ar man dess as plain as I done see you dis-hyar minnit, suh."

"Did you recognize him?"

"Yass, suh. I knowed him soon's I set eyes on his face, suh."

"Do you see him in this court-room now?"

"Yass, suh."

"Point him out to the jury, Abe."

The negro, now feeling reassured, leveled his black finger at Tom Strickland, dramatically.

"Dass him, suh," spoke the witness. "Hit was Mistah Tom Strickland what I seen passin' me on dat-ar road, suh. Lawdy massy! I done know him since he wa'nt no mo'n knee-high to a duck, suh!"

"I—I had come purty nigh to de hog-path whar I was to strike off inter de bottom lands," he resumed, "when I stumbled ovah sump'in a-layin on de groun', part in de road and part in de grass side o' de road."

He wiped his face with his open palm.

"Hit was a man," he said—and then, his voice solemn—"and de man was dead. He been shot. I seen de place whar he shot—right in de head, 'twix' de eyes, on'y dess a li'l bit higher up. When I stumble ovah him and nigh fall, I stretch out my hand, down-lak, and hit tech de place whar he been shot and got all bloody."

"Abram," said the prosecuting attorney, "tell the jury who the dead man was whose body you thus found and whose face you saw and recognized."

"Hit was young Mistah Stamford Tucker," the witness made answer. "I knowed him, suh, dess as well as I know Mistah Tom Strickland settin' right hyar 'fo' my eyes, suh."

"The State rests its case," announced the prosecuting attorney. A profound and ominous silence followed.

It was broken by the entrance of Col. Todhunter into the court-room.

He came through a door opening from the Sheriff's office in the rear.

His clothing was covered with dust, as of hurried travel along sun-scorched country roads.

He made his way direct to where Col. "Bill" Strickland and Maj. Gentry Dryden sat. The latter rose a moment later.

"I beg the Court's indulgence for a little time," he said, hurriedly. "An adjournment is not asked—merely opportunity for a brief conference."

The request was granted.

Taking hasty notes meanwhile, Maj. Dryden was deep in consultation with the newcomer. Suddenly he stood erect and faced the trial judge, his eyes ablaze with excitement.

"May it please the Court," he said, "the real murderer of Stamford Tucker, who confesses his guilt, is now a prisoner in the Nineveh jail. The defense in the present case will at once present the evidence upon which it asks for the immediate discharge of Thomas W. Strickland, wrongfully accused of that crime!"

Then he turned to the Sheriff.

"Call Lottie-May Doggett!" he said.

"The witness is not present," replied the Sheriff. "A deputy reports that she has disappeared from her home."

"She is present now," said the counsel for the defense.

And Lottie-May Doggett, emerging from the Sheriff's own office, took the stand in answer to his call.

Try This for a Severe Cough.

Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes. Put 2½ oz. of Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. The taste is pleasant.

The prompt results from this simple home-made article will surprise you. It usually conquers a deep-seated cough in 24 hours, and is a splendid household remedy for hoarseness, whooping cough, colds, chest pains, bronchitis, etc.

The recipe above given makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—and costs only 54 cents. It keeps perfectly, and is easily prepared in five minutes. Children take it willingly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. It is rich in all the well-known pine elements which are so healing to membranes.

None of the weaker pine preparations can compare with the real Pinex itself. All druggists have it, or will get it for you if requested.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup. ADV.

ANTY DRUDGE

Anty Drudge Dries Miss Prettygirl's Tears.

Anty Drudge—"Why, what's the matter, dear? What are you crying about?"

Miss Prettygirl—"Oh, my beautiful new waist is ruined and it just makes me sick. That clumsy Will Johnson upset a plate of refreshments on it last night at the party, and spoiled all my fun."

Anty Drudge—"And his, too, I'll warrant. But dry your eyes, dear. It was all an accident, no doubt, but you feel so badly that you have to blame someone. Now if you had only known of Fels-Naptha you could have passed it off as a joke, enjoyed yourself and spared Will an uncomfortable time."

There's a right way and a wrong way to do everything.

And there is a new way and an old way to do almost everything.

The new way to wash clothes is the Fels-Naptha way—in cool or lukewarm water, no boiling, either in winter or summer, and little rubbing.

And the Fels-Naptha is the right way as well—saves time, saves the back, saves fuel, and the wash comes out cleaner, sweeter, whiter.

It is up to you to choose between the new and the old, the right and the wrong way of doing your washing.

Simple directions for washing and other household cleaning are printed on the inside of the red and green wrapper.

INSANE ASYLUM ON FIRE; 350 ARE RESCUED EASILY

Patients at Jacksonville (Ill.) Moved From Burning Building at Night.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Dec. 22.—Three hundred and fifty insane patients were moved out of a burning building at the Central Illinois Hospital for the Insane last night, with the precision of children in a fire drill. All were taken to another building and no one was injured.

The fire was discovered at 8:30 p. m. in the main building, a structure a quarter of a mile long. The north wing, known as the "dull and stupid" ward, was in immediate danger, and the patients were aroused.

The fire was kept in the third floor of this wing. The roof fell in, but the two lower floors are undamaged. At 11 o'clock the blaze was under control and at 3 a. m. the fire was out. The loss is about $30,000.

Millers Give Christmas Dinner.

A Christmas dinner and ladies' night celebration was given at the Mercantile Club Tuesday night by the St. Louis Millers' Club. H. B. Sparks, president of the club, was toastmaster. Addresses were made by F. W. Lehmann and G. J. Tansey. A programme of songs, addresses and recitations followed the dinner. Resolutions of condolence on the death of Theodore R. Ballard were passed.

'SAMSON' BRINGS HACKETT AS NEXT STAR AT OLYMPIC

Rose Stahl in "Chorus Lady," Century; "Man From Home" Remains at Garrick.

OTHER NEW OFFERINGS

"School Days," American; "Merely Mary Ann," Imperial; Melodrama, Havlin's.

James K. Hackett will appear at the Olympic for the week beginning next Sunday evening in an adaptation of the famous French drama, "Samson," by Henri Bernstein, author of "The Thief."

The new play is in four acts, its most gripping scene coming in the third, and it tells a powerful modern story of a strong man's revenge on a would-be rival and of the splendid fidelity of a loving wife to her husband. The title role is said to fit Mr. Hackett admirably, and he will be supported by a strong company that includes Arthur Hoops, Frederic de Belleville, Basil Hallam, Hayward Ginn, Emmett Whitney, James J. Florence, Edgar F. Hill, J. C. Roland, David Manning, Beatrice Beckley, Marie Wainwright, Vera McCord and Maud Gilbert.

"The Round-Up" is at the Olympic this week.

Rose Stahl, playing the ever-delightful title part of Patricia O'Brien in "The Chorus Lady," now returns to St. Louis beginning a week's engagement at the Century next Sunday evening. Since her last appearance here in this play Miss Stahl has scored an exceptionally brilliant London success, English playgoers being tremendously pleased with her clever work in this James Forbes comedy of stage life. She brings with her practically the entire original company, including Wilfred Lucas, Alice Leigh, Giles Shine, Claire Lane, Isabelle Goodwin, Walter Pennington and Kenyon Bishop.

"The Girl From Rector's" is the current Century bill.

The second week of the Garrick engagement of William Hodge in "The Man From Home" opens next Sunday night. The play, a clean and wholesome comedy, telling a story of the fight made by a homely and sincere Indiana country lawyer to protect his two wards from the machinations of scheming foreigners who would exchange tarnished titles for American gold, has duplicated in St. Louis its great success in other cities, and Mr. Hodge in the title role warmly commends himself to the favor of his audiences.

Announced as the most original of all musical comedies, "School Days" comes to the American for the week beginning with next Sunday's matinee. It has a company of over 50 members, headed by Herman Timberg in his great role of Izzy Levi, a Russian boy violinist. It tells a diverting story of schoolday life, and is rich in catchy music, bright songs and big musical and dancing numbers.

"Fifty Miles From Boston" is this week's American offering.

In the title role of "Merely Mary Ann," which will be presented by the Imperial stock company next week, beginning Sunday afternoon, it is said that Ethel Clifton, the company's new leading woman, will be seen at her best. The play is by Israel Zangwill and is a finely romantic comedy.

"The Two Orphans" is now on the Imperial stage.

Owen Davis' thrilling melodrama, "The Convict's Sweetheart," opens a week's engagement at Havlin's with next Sunday's matinee. Its "big scene" shows a duel between the hero and the villain on the crest of a high Rocky Mountain peak, the villain being thrown over the precipice, his fall to the valley far beneath being seen by the audience. Two carloads of scenery are used and the company numbers 20 players.

Estelle Allen in "The Princess of Patches" is this week's star.

"At the Country Club," a musical sketch by George Spink, produced by Jesse L. Lasky, will head the New Columbia's bill next week. Other attractions will be the Seven Bonhairs, marvelous acrobats; Emily Erickson Greene and company, in "A Minnesota Romance;" the Olivotti Troubadours, violin and guitar players; Hayes and Johnson, in "A Dream of Baby Days;" Warren and Blanchard, comedians and singers; Wheelock and Hay, trick and comedy cyclists, and Joe Carroll, monologist.

Helen Grantley and company, in "The Agitators," head this week's bill.

Eddie Leonard, last season's star of the Cohan & Harris Minstrels, will head the Grand's bill next week, appearing in his new offering, "At Home Again," assisted by Mabel Russell and "the dancing wonders." Other features are Middleton, Spellmeyer and company in "A Texas Wooing," the two Racketts, introducing the famous cartoon, "Bob Fitzsimmons in Evening Dress;" Cora Simpson, "for the Sunday edition;" Farrell Brothers, comedy cyclists; the Lebells, comedy jugglers; Murray Bennett, monologist, and new motion pictures. Next Friday night, and every Friday evening for the rest of the season, will be amateur night.

Cliff Berzac's Comedy Circus is this week's topliner.

Pat White and his Gaiety Girls begin a week's engagement at the Standard next Sunday afternoon. They offer two burlesques, "Casey Among the Stars" and "Dr. Dun Outdone," a clever vaudeville bill, and Radhee in a dancing specialty.

"Miss New York Jr." is now at this house.

Al. Reeves' Big Beauty Show will be the Gayety's attraction next week, opening with Sunday matinee. A diverting first-part entitled "The Merry Go-Round," a laughable burlesque called "Conology," Al. Reeves in a new act, and an entertaining vaudeville olio will be presented.

Clark's Runaway Girls are the current bill.

Next Sunday's popular concert by the Symphony Orchestra at the Odeon will be of uncommon attractiveness, the following exceptionally notable program having been arranged by Conductor Zach as in keeping with the Christmas festival spirit:

March of the Knights of the Holy Grail, from Parsifal .... Wagner
Overture to The Flying Dutchman .. Wagner
Selection from Lohengrin .... Wagner
Pastorale from The Messiah .... Handel
Second Suite, L'Arlesienne .... Bizet
Prelude to Le Deluge, violin obligato by Mr. Hugo Olk .... Saint-Saens
Malaguena from Boabdil .... Moszkowski

The Chaminade Club of the Frank Louis Soldan High School will give a musicale in the school auditorium Thursday afternoon at 3:15, this being the first appearance of the new school organizations, assisted by the Mandolin Club, Messrs. Howard and Donald Rothrock and Henry Merker. Among those taking part are: Misses Ashcroft, Cunningham, Colesworthy, Dallan, Eichenberger, Kannady, Nixon, Upton, Wilkins, Williams, Young, Brady, Spindler, Daves, Field, Murray, Kroell, Ittner, Black, Anderson, Council, Kirchner, Liebheir, McCarthy, Neff, Shinkle, Stephens, Catchings, Srenco, Gates, Blatterman, Brown, Burden, Burden, Byrne, Finn, Huey, Mohr, Swacker.

The German Stock Company at the Odeon will play next Sunday night a fairy farce, a most suitable Christmas performance, "Die Galloschen des Gluecks," (The Lucky Shoes) by Jacobson and Girndt, with music by G. Michaelis, in which a poor old tinsmith dreams that he has a pair of lucky shoes, by the wearing of which he can wish himself anything under the sun and receive it. His wishes are of the wild character so often depicted in fairy stories, and in the end he is glad that it is a dream. The changing tableaux depict the series of his wishes.

Don't Stand on the Ragged Edge

You people who are continually taking cold—you who are abnormally thin—you with the low vitality—YOU are standing on the ragged edge.

Just a light push and you fall into disease.

Get away from the brink. Become normal.

Build up your strength—your flesh—your vitality. That is what FER-MIL-LAC does.

FER-MIL-LAC is whole milk specially processed with a delicious new flavor unlike any flavor we know—the one good drink that's really good for you.

It isn't at all like a tonic.

It contains all of the butter fats and all of the solids of the richest milk, but in pre-digested form so the stomach is never taxed in the least. Many people cannot take anything else.

This marvelous drink is patterned after a famous product used as a food in the Balkan Peninsula where many of the people live to be over a hundred years old.

FER-MIL-LAC

A Pasteur Professor discovered the cause—a friendly germ now called the Bacillus Bulgarus. This germ is imported from Paris for FER-MIL-LAC.

It destroys all the disease germs it meets—and sick or well, you carry a myriad of them in the intestines.

FER-MIL-LAC thus stops the poisons they throw off—clears up the blood and supplies nourishment to the whole body. If you are abnormal you need FER-MIL-LAC.

You'll be surprised, after a few weeks, to note how you "pick up" in every way.

FER-MIL-LAC tends only to bring you to normal.

It won't make you over weight. Because you are apt to be stout doesn't mean that you can't benefit from its use.

Try it at any soda fountain, buffet, cafe, hotel or club. Then order a "family size" through any druggist by 'phone for the home. Drink it with every meal.

OLD SANTA HAS A MACHINE THAT THINKS WHAT CHILDREN WANT

By Reindeer Post to the Post-Dispatch.

NORTH POLE, Dec. 22, 1909.

My dear impatient children:

I HAVE no doubt that you followed my advice about going to bed early, though I know you would dearly love to sit up these nights and talk about all of the pretty things I am going to bring.

I suppose you think it very wonderful that I know just what every little girl and boy in the world wants for Christmas. And maybe you have been wondering what Santa Claus does in the summer time. If you only knew. I can't tell much about it because I don't want everybody to know the great secret. But I can tell you this. I have made a greater discovery than Mr. Marconi, who sends the wireless telegrams. In the summer, when my reindeers are out in pasture, I work all the time on this wonderful invention.

I HAVE it so perfect now that if any little boy or girl thinks of a red express wagon, or a doll, or a train of cars, or a magic lantern, or a sled, or a velocipede, or a toy airship, I think of the same thing at the same time. And, strangest thing of all, the name of the little boy or girl pops right into my head. And when that happens it is all written down on a machine which I carry in my pocket in the day time and which sits by my bed at night. I don't have to write it. The letters just appear on a long roll of paper as soon as I think.

I would like to tell you how the machine is made, but if I did that anybody could be a Santa Claus. There is only one other machine like mine in the world, and it is owned by the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Fund.

I'll be with you soon.

Love for all.

SANTA CLAUS.

Christmas Trees Cause Runaway.

The swishing boughs of Christmas trees frightened the horses which Louis Liebermann of 1010 North Eleventh street was driving along Manchester avenue, and the animals ran away. Liebermann was thrown from his seat on the tree trunks, and was dragged several feet, his face being cut by the jagged surface of the street. He was extricated from the reins by George Doolittle, a passerby, and was sent to the City Hospital.

Asks Police to Find Husband.

Mrs. Martin Annis of 1414 Biddle street has asked the police to help find her husband who left home Dec. 20 to go to work and never returned. Annis if 42 years old, six feet tall and wore a dark striped suit and a heavy tan overcoat. He has light complexion.

PUBLIC WAITS TO LEARN WHO WINS $5 SHOES

Hundreds Send Answers to Druggist Puzzle, Though Not Competitors.

TO PUBLISH SOLUTION

Post-Dispatch Will Announce Correct Result and Winner of Prize.

The answers sent by bankers to the Post-Dispatch druggist problem will be published Thursday, with official announcement of the correct solution and of the award of the $5 pair of shoes offered for the first correct answer submitted by a banker.

Although the general public is not in competition for the shoes, it is showing an interest in the problem almost equal to that shown last week in the problem of the shoemaker, the druggist and the bogus $10 bill. Hundreds of answers to the druggist problem, a number of them from outside St. Louis, were received by the Post-Dispatch Wednesday. A few of the many letters follow:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your puzzle is very simple. The Page boulevard man gave the druggist a $5 bill and in return received $1, and later returns with $4 and receives back his $5. So the man is $2 ahead of the druggist.

CAROLINE LUEDDE,
915 Geyer avenue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read the puzzle in your paper and my answer is, the druggist is $3 to the good. I am a pupil of the Fremont School, and we are all wise.

FRED WECKHERLIN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The druggist gives the man $1 for $5 in the morning; the druggist is $4 to the good. The customer returns in the evening to redeem the $5. He gives the druggist $4 more, which makes him $8 to the good. He gives the customer his $5, which leaves him $2 to good, after deducting the $1 he gave the customer in the morning.

V. H.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mr. Resident of Page Boulevard, relieve your mind of all worry. You are not only square in your transaction with the druggist, but you beat the poor fellow out of $2. Shame on you! I am not a banker, but may be entitled to the $5 pair of shoes, for I may some day become a banker's wife.

A. I. L.,
2123 B street, Granite City.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Regarding that problem of the druggist, I have come to the conclusion that the druggist came out $3 ahead. It is very simple and if you would tell Mr. Jean Knott to "tell it to the Danes," I think they could solve harder ones than this.

X. Y. Z.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Page man gives the druggist $5 in the morning and gets $1 for it, and keeps the $1 all day, and gets $4 more during the day and comes back and gives it to the druggist for his $5 he left in the morning. Then he has got the dollar he had all day, and that makes him have $6, $1 ahead. The druggist has the $4 the man just gave him, but was out $1 in the morning, so the druggist is $3 ahead and the Page man $1 ahead. It just takes $10 to make the deal.

F. G. NICHOLS,
2826 Franklin avenue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The man is $2 ahead, because if he gave him $1 in the morning and $5 in the evening, that makes $6, and he only received $4, so the druggist loses $2.

JESSIE TWIGGS,
1207 South Seventh street.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If I was chump enough to give the druggist $5 in the morning for $1 and returned in the evening and gave him another $4 for the fun of having my $5 returned to me, I would be giving him $8 for $6 and would be making money backward fast. This leaves me losing $2. Give me the shoes, sixe 7.

JAMES LEONHARD,
3900 Chouteau avenue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

According to my calculations concerning the druggist's puzzle, both parties come out even.

AIMEE GUTGESELL,
7804 South Broadway.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to your druggist problem, I will say that the druggist is out $1.

CHARLES HANSON,
403[illegible] Clayton avenue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am poor at figuring and digging graves, but your problem is a cinch. I used to work in a glass works. I can see through this; the druggist is $8 to the good.

PAT CONDON,
3301 Arsenal st.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to your druggist problem, I think the druggist is out $2.

E. KAYSING,
Of the Knock Along Club.
P. S.—Three years old.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Man on Page boulevard is ahead $2. The druggist gave out $1 in the morning and $5 in the evening for $4, thereby losing $2.

MRS. C. SPEROSS,
237 Virginia avenue, St. Louis County.

PUZZLE OF THE DRUGGIST AND CHANGE FOR $5 BILL

I STOPPED in a drug store on my way downtown to get a $5 bill changed. The druggist couldn't change it, and I told him to give me $1 and keep the $5 bill until I returned. He did so. In the evening I stopped at the drug store and gave the druggist $4, and he gave me back my $5 bill. I am wondering whether I came out square with the druggist. How do we stand?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This is the answer of a nature faker, relating to the druggist problem: The man gave the druggist $5; the druggist gave the man $1. Later in the day the man gave the druggist $4 more and the druggist gave the man $5. Now, then, the druggist was in $4 in the morning and $4 in the afternoon, total $8; the druggist gave the man $1 in morning and $5 in the afternoon, total $6. Therefore the druggist is in $2 and the man is out $2.

F. A. B.,
Alton, Ill.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In reply to your puzzle, your friend gave the druggist $5 and $4—$9 in all. He got back $1 and $5—$6 in all. Therefore he is out $3.

W. C. CLARK,
A Druggist.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The man gives the druggist $5, gets $1 and leaves $5 with the druggist. Returning, he gives the druggist $4 and the druggist gives him $5 in return, $4 belonging to the man and $1 belonging to the druggist, which he does not get, this leaving the druggist $1 out.

J. HICKY,
2309 North Market street.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The answer is that the druggist and the man are even.

M. KRESS,
2904 Hickory street.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The druggist is out $1 and the man is ahead $1, because if he borrowed $1 in the morning the druggist should have only given him the $4 instead of the $5.

GERTRUDE LYNAM,
2346 Adams st.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Page boulevard man is $1 ahead of the druggist, but I suppose the druggist will make it up on some prescription.

L. A. LANGE,
2619 Gravois av.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If the druggist receives $5 in the morning and $1 in the evening, he receives in all $9. Giving $1 in the morning and $5 in the evening, he gives in all $6; receiving $9 and giving only $6 evidently he is ahead $3, that, I suppose he kept for his trouble. If I would have to give a pair of shoes to every Mexican baner sending the correct solution, I would ask George to pay for the bill.

RIC O. ESPINOSA,
Penrose st.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In reply to the puzzle in the Post-Dispatch of today would say that the "man" is $3 loser. The man gave the druggist in all $9 ($5 plus $4), and in return received $6—viz., $1 plus $5. Result: $3 loser. I have read the Post-Dispatch 22 years.

BOYS FLEEING FROM INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL CAUGHT BY POLICEMAN

Two Inmates Climb on Netting to Roof, Then Drop to Sheds and Escape.

Emil Gross, 14 years old, and Edgar Earl, 15, slipped out of a window at the Industrial School while several dozen other boys were engaged in noisy games there Wednesday morning, and climbed on netting to the roof, 40 feet from the ground. They dropped from the roof to a shed six feet below, and from the shed roof, 12 feet to Gasconade street. A few moments later they were in front of Emil's home at 2749 Utah street.

But as they were about to go into the house, Policeman Moorkamp, recognizing the uniforms of the school, gathered them in and took them to the Wyoming Street Station. They were back in the school almost before the attendants had missed them.

Edgar Earl lives in Chicago, at 2389 South Twenty-second street. Emil Gross had promised, if they got safely to Emil's house, to fit him out with clothes in which he could "bum" his way to Chicago.

PHYSICIAN FILES SEPARATION SUIT AFTER WIFE LEAVES HIM

Dr. G. E. Krapf Says Spouse Wrote That She Did Not Want to See Him Again.

Dr. G. E. Krapf of 3407 South Jefferson avenue, whose first divorce suit against Mrs. Charlotta Krapf, was dismissed in October after she returned to him, has filed a suit in the Circuit Court for legal separation. He alleges the defendant pouted and sulked, that she denied him her society, quarreled constantly and neglected the household.

The final separation took place Nov. 18, when, the petition recites, Mrs. Krapf wrote her husband a note saying she did not love him and did not want to see him again.

In the first petition the plaintiff averred that socks and other wearing apparel which might have been mended were thrown away. The couple has two children, Margaret, 14 years old, who is in school in Dresden, Germany, and Lillian. The father asks for their custody.

CORSET STEEL DEFLECTS BULLET

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—A corset steel probably saved the life of Miss Ethel Eitelhuber, when a shot was fired through a bed room window in her home last evening in an attempt to kill her. The shades were drawn, but as Miss Eitelhuber was standing near the window her shadow on the curtain gave the would-be murderer his mark.

The bullet went through her dress, but when it struck the corset it glanced off.

Arthur I. Jacobs, engineer in charge of the supply and purification division of the Water Department, has been chosen by the Board of Public Improvements to succeed Harry Schley Sanderson as supervisor of city lighting. Sanderson's resignation was accepted three weeks ago. The change becomes effective Jan. 1.

Jacobs has designed several pieces of machinery, one of which is a contrivance for regulating the speed of an electric motor. His new position pays $2500 a year, $100 more than he received in the Water Department. It is announced at the City Hall that a man now in the Water Department will succeed Jacobs there.

16 ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING IN SLEEPER TRUNKS

Federal Arrests Disclose Plot Which Withheld $500,000 in Duties.

WOMEN ARE OFFENDERS

Baggage Shipped From Paris in Name of Innocent Passengers.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—With the arrest here and in Chicago of 13 dressmakers not previously mentioned in connection with the cases, and the rearrest of three other persons concerned, the wholesale roundup of men and women indicted in the "sleeper trunk" smuggling cases was begun and more was made clear of the system by which the Government was defrauded out of more than $500,000 in duties in five years.

Twenty-seven indictments have been found, and more arrests will be made today in this city and probably in Chicago. Eventually persons in Baltimore and Philadelphia will be seized. Two arrests were made recently in Boston.

Behind the legal phase of the indictment lies the story of the remarkable scheme to defraud the Government, believed to have been planned and carrid on successfully for five years by a former Government employe who resided in Paris and reaped a rich reward from the dressmakers. His name was Frank Fawcett. He was once in the customs service.

Names of Innocent Persons Used.

Fawcett had offices in Paris, and dressmakers turned over to him goods they had bought on their trips abroad. He packed the gowns, silks and laces in trunks and sent them to this country bearing the name of some innocent passenger who had sailed on a Red Star or American Line ship a week before.

At this end Philip A. Phillipson was at the head of the business, it is charged, and Robert Schwartz, the pier baggagemaster, was his assistant, the prosecution asserts. The trunks were landed from the ships with other baggage, but no one claimed them, and no customs inspector examined them because not called upon to do so. In the course of time Schwartz would get the trunks off the pier and to the dressmakers.

Five trunks were seized last March by subordinates of Surveyor Clarkson after the discovery of a trolley which could be used to transport trunks from the American to the Red Star pier. Two of these trunks were presumably the baggage of Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris and Mrs. John Mason, her aunt, both of San Francisco, but they denied ownership of the baggage. The trunks contained $52,000 in Paris finery. Soon Collector Loeb received in a roundabout way an offer of $100,000 to be paid to the Government if he would let the case drop. Then the offer was raised to $200,000.

Markings Aid in Search.

The contents of the trunks were sold at auction and brought about $35,000. Meantime the search for those who owned the trunks had begun. In Paris special Treasury agents searched the registers of every hotel and found the names of New York dressmakers to whom the goods had been consigned. Almost every garment had been marked with a small initial and these marks aided the Paris end of the search greatly.

It is expected that others than dressmakers will be involved in the scandal. It is believed that fashionable women of this city who made regular trips to Paris and bought large quantities of gowns there, used Fawcett's "underground" line exactly as dressmakers did.

JIMMY McALEER ACCUSED OF BLOCKING BROWNS' DEAL, BUT HEDGES IGNORES IT

HEDGES SURE THAT M'ALEER WAS MISQUOTED

Browns' Boss Will Not Believe His Old Manager Said Stone Had Hip Trouble.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

JIMMY McALEER, former manager of the Browns, who has now cast his lot with Washington, is being charged with blocking a deal between the Browns and White Sox, whereby St. Louis was to give George Stone for some Chicago star. A Chicago paper reported that McAleer had told Comiskey that Stone had serious trouble with his hip and upon hearing that, Comiskey called off all negotiations for the man.

It looks as though somebody has muddled things. In the first place, George Stone has never had any trouble with his hip and if he has now, it has come since the close of the baseball season. The chances are his hip is all right. So if McAleer said he had hip trouble, it would appear like an untruth, and as long as McAleer was connected with the St. Louis club, no one could accuse him of misrepresenting things.

When President R. L. Hedges of the Browns heard of the affair, he said at once that he didn't believe McAleer had said such a thing. No one who knows McAleer well could believe it, for he is one of the most upright men connected with the game. Some have even hinted that his great regard for the truth has hindered his chances for success.

It is quite probable the mistake was made by the Chicago reporter. It looks as though McAleer might have been talking to Comiskey about several of the veteran members of the Browns and included both Stone and Jimmy Williams. It is well known that Williams had trouble with his hip last summer and had to quit the game for a while on that account. McAleer was probably referring to Williams and the reporter thought he was talking of Stone.

There's nothing the matter with George Stone. He's as sound today as he was five years ago, and the St. Louis fans who have seen him sprint to first base so often and beat out a bunt or an infield hit, know well that a man with such speed could not have hip trouble. There are not more than three or four men in the American League who can go from the plate to first base any faster than George. He sprained his ankle last summer in a desperate slide for first base, trying to beat out a hit and was crippled much of the time, but there has never been any trouble with his hip. His ankle is now entirely well and he is expected to be as fast as ever next summer, for George Stone is still a young man.

The main reason that Jack O'Connor and President Hedges have for hinting at a trade that would involve Stone is because they are badly in need of a star pitcher, one they can feel assured will go into the box and hold down the best teams in the league. To get such a man, of course, they would expect to part with a good man. It is known that Charley Comiskey has been after a hard-hitting outfielder with the same zest that Hedges has sought a pitcher. So it was natural to believe that these two magnates would get together, for one had extra outfield material and the other was strong in the pitching department. The trade talked of was Stone for Frank Smith, though neither one of the magnates has admitted that a deal is now on. There was such a deal on a year ago, but Comiskey backed out.

O'Connor Wondering Where He Can Find Man to Play on First Base

JACK O'CONNOR is worrying these days on where he will play his young star, Arthur Griggs next summer. It looks as though this boy is destined to be one of the leaders in baseball and O'Connor as well as other knowing baseball men, believe the boy will do better in the outfield than on first base. Still, unless the Browns procure a first baseman during the winter, it may be necessary to stick the young hitter on the initial sack.

The only first baseman on the list now, except Griggs, is Claude Rossman, former Detroit man. He was tried out in the outfield last fall because he wanted to quit playing first base. He was not satisfactory. Claude is one of those wild throwers who heaves the ball away and loses games and that's the reason he was turned loose by Detroit. O'Connor does not want to play him on first base and Claude does not want to play there. So it looks as though he may be traded, for there are a dozen strong minor league clubs willing to give a big price for him and would probably let him play in the outfield too.

But that doesn't give the Browns a first baseman for next summer and O'Connor does not want to keep Griggs there. He is convinced he can make one of the greatest outfielders and hitters in the business of Griggs and hopes he will not have to keep the boy on first base.

So both O'Connor and Hedges will be trying to form some deal that will land a strong and experienced first baseman for the Browns, because it would hardly do to put a green man on that corner when there will probably be green men on second and third.

The man whom Hedges has always wanted is Hal Chase, the wonderful first baseman of the New York team. There was a time when New York would talk of trading Hal, but there's no use mentioning such a thing today. He is a fixture on that club, and if George Stallings, doesn't do pretty well with that club this year, Hal Chase will be in line to succeed him as manager of the team.

The other good first basemen of the American League are Stovall of Cleveland, Stahl of Boston and old Harry Davis of Philadelphia. They are all first-class fielders, and excellent hitters, and Hedges would be willing to figure on a deal to land any of them. Stahl might have been procured once when he shifted from New York to Boston. Now he stands strong with the Red Sox, and John I. Taylor would hardly part with him now. Cleveland might part with George Stovall, but undoubtedly would want much in exchange.

O'Connor wants to get his new team straightened this year. His scheme, as well as that of Owner Hedges, is to get rid of the wornout material on the club. He expects to build from the bottom up. That means it will take a little time, for many youngsters may have to be tried before one is found to fill in each position.

A few of the old men will probably be retained for another year to hold the team up until young material has been found that is suitable. O'Connor could begin the reconstruction of the team with just what material is now on hand. But he has other deals in mind, and hopes to put them through before the spring training trip.

Basket Ball Notes.

The Baker University basket ball quintette of Baldwin, Kan., went down to defeat before the Premiere Lodge team Tuesday night at the Louisiana Hall by a score of 54 to 16. The local players put up a splendid game, their passing and shooting being very spectacular at all stages of the contest. There was but one fault with the locals' play, and that was the inclination to hold, causing many fouls to be called on them.

Baker started of with a rush and a moment after the jump off, Center Liston sent the ball through the net for the first score of the contest. The two teams then played for some time before being able to count, but the next came when Hardin tallied the first basket for the Premieres.

This was followed by another from Roe, which put them in the lead, and from then on the Premieres could not be stopped. When the first half ended Hardin alone had 20 points to his credit.

The score at the end of the first half stood 28 to 8. The second was merely a repetition of the first, and it saw the whole Premiere team making baskets. Many fruitless attempts to score were made by the Baker players after bringing the ball within striking distance, through some excellent passing. Liston's field work was the feature of the visitors' play, and with Beaton were the stars for their team, while Hardin, Reber and Roe were the most conspicuous for the Premieres. Mike Walker refereed.

The line up:

Premiere Lodge (54).		Baker U. (16).
Hardin (20)	Left field	Osborne (4)
Roe (12)	Right field	Beaton, Miller
Riley (6)	Center	Liston (8)
McKnight (2)	Left guard	Counts, Beaton
Reber (6)	Right guard	Counts (4). Jamieson

The Yeatman High School five defeated the Smith Academy team Tuesday afternoon at Louisiana Hall and assumed the leadership of the interscholastic race by an doing. The final score was 36 to 9, which indicates that the North Siders have made some improvement in their play since they won from Soldan last week. Coach Fuller can rest assured that his team will not win the cellar championship now, but he is going to work his team all through the holidays in hope that Yeatman may land near the top.

The whole team put up a very good game and held the Red and White lads safe the entire game. Capt. Stuewe and Schisler were the heroes of the victory while Schopp and Pank played the best for Smith. Mahood refereed.

The line up:

Yeatman (36).		Smith (9).
Campbell-Gruenewald (4)	Left field	F. Stanley
Schisler (16)	Right field	Pank (3)
Stuewe (16)	Center	Schopp (4)
Koch	Right guard	Delano (2)

CREDITORS AGAIN AFTER OLD CAPTAIN ANSON

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Capt. A. C. Anson's personal and other assets, were ordered sold by court Wednesday to satisfy claims against his former billiard business. The claims amount to $7000. Receiver Thompson said he had not collected a cent.

"We have not even money on hand to pay court costs," said Thompson.

The court directed that the personal effects of the estate be sold at public auction. Anson has lost all his real estate, and now, at the age of 56, the one-time batting hero of the National League, is penniless. Lack of business ability overwhelmed Anson. His habits are good.

Dreyfuss Finds One Player Who Breaks His Rules

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 22.—Pitcher Bill Powell of the Pittsburg team has defied Barney Dreyfuss, and signed to play basket ball with a central league team. Today President Dreyfuss wrote Powell commanding him to quit basket ball at once, or suffer a horizontal cut in his salary with the Pittsburg champions for next season.

Powell's friends are claiming discrimination by the club owners, declaring that Hans Wagner is playing basket ball regularly. This is denied by the Pittsburg club owners, who say even if this were so, their order to Powell will stand, as Wagner always turns up in the best of condition. The club claims Powell injured himself by playing basket ball last season, and could not play his game of baseball last summer.

BOWLING

As was generally expected, the Duffys threw the hooks into the Witter Christens in their City Star Tenpin League match on the De Soto Pine alleys Tuesday night. The Witter Christens put up a hard fight, but the team was up against it, as they were shooting the Duffys on Nos. 15 and 16 alleys, the two runs in the city that the Duffys like best.

The Duffys took the first and third games, the Witter Christens annexing the middle essay. If Al "Wizard" Jellison had not been shooting such an excellent game and Frank Witter, "boss" of the Witter Christens had been able to shoot at anything like his regular speed in the first game, there might have been a different tale to tell. Jellison was certainly "on." He started off with a 220 game, came back with 222 and wound up with a 244. Yet some persons will insist that the "Wizard" is nothing more than a fairly good team bowler.

The Duffys shot three good games—947, 930 and 967. Frank Witter got but 137 pins in his first game, which the Witter Christens lost by 15 pins. "Heine" Schienk did some good bowling for the Witter Christens, his games being 214, 172 and 225.

The Blackwell-Wielandys did the unexpected when they took two out of three from the Fern Glens on the De Soto Pine. Lukens was really the only man on the Fern Glens who was shooting up to his best game. His trio of efforts netted him 216, 206 and 193. Scharlotte did the best work for the losers, with 186, 203 and 176.

Teams of the Woodmen of the World League bowled on the De Soto Pine alleys, the matches resulting as follows: Hickory 2, Elks 1; St. Louis 3, Choppers 0; Terminals 2, Mercantiles 1. Valentine of the Terminals, with a total of 515 pins, was easily the individual star.

Charley Anthony won and lost a match in the Rex individual tournament Tuesday, he taking four out of five from Schick, only to lose the odd game in a match with Bacon. Anthony averaged 182 to Bacon's 181. In the match he won he averaged 180. Schuttenberg took three out of five from Mates and Menninghaus annexed all of the games, with the exception of the fourth, in his tilt with Hayes.

The Duffys tried mighty hard Monday night to crack the Regals' high record when shooting in the St. Louis Tenpin League against the Grands, on the Grand alleys, the team averaged 973 2-3. At that the Duffys tried to give the Grands 45 pins handicap per game, and the result was that Drake & Co. cantered home, 3—0. Drake and Hebert of the Grands and Charley Stokes, Freddie Graeff and Al Jellison of the Duffys all averaged above the double-century mark. Stokes' 208 2-3 average being high.

As was predicted, the Hyde Parks got their chance to shoot on their home alleys, Nos. 15 and 16, at the Palace, Tuesday night, in their City League contest with the Fer Mil Lacs, and Langenberg's bunch, not fearing for the result of the contest, shot their best tenpins of the season, averaging 1006 1-3 pins per game. If Gus Schmitt had been able to loosen up a bit and Harvey Mann had been able to bunch his strikes there is no telling where the team would have stopped.

It was a foregone conclusion that the Fer Mil Lacs were doomed to a walloping, and they got it, 3—0. Charley Vandewater of the Hyde Parks again demonstrated the fact that it will take some mighty good tenpins, by any man, on any man's alley, to beat him this season, when he averaged 215 2-3. Deen was high, however, with a 228 2-3 average. Fred Langenberg started out shooting like a wild buzz saw was chasing him. He got a 231 game, but in the second fell down to a 171, but nevertheless averaged 201. The Hyde Parks are as the result still out in the lead. The Fer Mil Lacs did not shoot a bad game by any means, averaging 888, but on Nos. 5 and 6 at the Palace, against the Hyde Parks, they simply had less than a chance. Grupe shot three good games for the Fer Mil Lacs, getting a 207 average. If it had not been for Wilson's 132 average the team might have made it at least interesting for Langenberg's five.

It was funny the way the Regals, who last Tuesday broke the world's record on Nos. 5 and 6 alleys, had to bend their backs and hustle to get respectable averages on the hard Nos. 1 and 2 runs at the Palace, Tuesday night. As in the case of the Hyde Parks, there was no doubt as to the result of the match. The Regals simply had the Jaegers' "angora" before they went on the alley and proceeded to take three games, with an average of 855, which is good shooting for Nos. 1 and 2. Waldecker averaged 191 and topped the Regals. Martin Kern averaged 187, Schmitt 180, while Masson and Darling were in the 160s.

Kumpf of the Buxton & Skinners did some sensational cocked hat bowling for the Business Men's League when, acting as lead-off man for his team on the Royal alleys Tuesday night, he averaged 53 3-5, by consistent bowling, his high game being 59. The Buxton & Skinners whitewashed the Real Estate five to the tune of 5—0. In the other Business Men's League match the A. C. & Fs. took three out of five from the Grand-Leaders.

ATHLETES ENTER RACE AT THE ICE RINK

Allen Shaw, former champion of St. Louis, Joe Forshaw, Weber Menges, Roy McKee and Harry Lang, the winner of the one mile championship race Monday night, will meet in the two-mile city amateur championship skating race at the Crystal Skating Rink, Cook and Channing avenues Wednesday evening. It is expected that the finish will come down to a sprint between Lang and Shaw.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

THE new Missouri game law, which prohibits the sale of protected fowls and animals, has brought about a readjustment in the prices paid for guide service in the Ozarks. Before venturing into the wilds get Joseph to the following rates—one price to all:

Guide, one day, without $1 50
Guide, one day, feathered 4 00
Guide, one day, hound 6 50

Abjure the "guide without." It's rough work. The guide accompanies you, in this instance. He leads you over miles of all sorts of geological formations, chiefly vertical in topography, and doesn't guarantee you anything but an aching back and a sight of some "turkey sign," petrified.

The feathered and horned options are what you want. In these cases you remain by the clubhouse fire writing your family and annoying your friends with a bit of nature faking as to how you stalked and killed deer and turkey and in otherwise rendering necessary a more stringent game law.

The guide does the rest. Does he roam the hills and hover over those prehistoric "signs?" Nix. He forgets our "after dark" shooting law, walks half a mile, pots a turkey and shows it to you next morning. That's a "feathered" guide.

The "hound" guide does likewise for deer. This sort is expensive as they frequently have to work themselves.

It's against the rules to accompany any guide except the one "without." Hunters are not allowed to go with guides unless armed with a quart. Must be bottled in bond.

And if accident should force him to lead you to quarry, be sure and lend him your smokeless ammunition. It's not in the rules, but it's customary.

Tom McCarey, the Los Angeles fight promoter, during his stay in St. Louis, told the newspaper men of this city that Bat Nelson's championship time was nearly over.

"The first good man who meets the Battler will take his taw," piped the confiding Thomas, cherfully (that was before his fight bid had been refused and ere his milk of human kindness had thereby been soured). "He has been to the mill too often; has been badly punished in some of his fights and, I think, is going back in endurance."

If this is true, a Briton has a splendid chance of holding a fight title of world's significance, for the first time in many moons. Freddie Welsh is to fight Nelson a 20-round go in London shortly. Welsh is a much improved man since his arrival in this country.

He is clever—so clever he beat that pastmaster of defense, Abe Attell, before he began to slip back. He is fast as lightning, and, while he has never been punished to any great extent, he is husky and game, and may take the "gaff" Nelson is sure to hand him. It seems entirely improbable that Nelson can get him in 20 rounds—and that spells defeat for the Norseman, the hero of so many desperately won melees. Nelson was never a point counter—just a plain fighter and a real champion. If he is beaten, Father Time, not Fred Welsh, will have put him down for the count.

Should Welsh win the title he will be the first Briton generally acknowledged as a world's champion since the days when Mitchell, Sullivan, Ryan and the heavies of 25 years ago were squabbling for glory and purses that seem like pittances compared to the king's ransoms for which scrappers now battle.

Bob Fitzsimmons might be taken as an exception, for, although of Cornish birth his fighting career began in Australia and never reached any considerable height until he came to this country to settle.

And the first time Abe Attell decides he wants to fight Jem Driscoll of England a long bout, put it down that another title will go visiting abroad. Abraham has gone the limit. He is defeating selling-platers with constantly increasing difficulty, and signs indicate he is at the breaking point. He has been in the game since he left the California reform school at the age of about 15 and fought in a rough school at the outset of his career. Abe is not old now; nor has he dissipated to the extremes that marred the careers of many of his contemporaries. But his success depends upon extreme speed. And after all these years of ring racing, he cannot possibly be the same phantom who, as a youth of 18, flitted about the ring at the West End Club here.

But even if Abe is at his best, Driscoll beat him at his best in New York and could do it better still in a longer fight, say those who saw them fence.

JACK JOHNSON WILL BEGIN A VAUDEVILLE TOUR LIKE JEFF'S

Negro Arranges for Fifteen Weeks Before the Footlights Before Starting Training.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.

JACK JOHNSON is signed up for a 15-week tour with a show, beginning a week from next Monday. After the contract runs out he will still have two and a half months to train for the big fight. Unless Johnson wears himself out on the tour this ought to be enough as he has been fighting regularly during the past few years. Johnson's show is an athletic affair, like that with which Jim Jeffries will be connected until Jan. 15. Johnson takes along some boxers and wrestlers. Kid Griffo and Joe Bernstein have signed up for the 15 weeks. They put up a very clever burlesque boxing turn.

JEFFRIES is already anxious to end his tour, although it is netting him at least twice as much every week as he ever made weekly before in any theatrical appearance. Jeff's heart is in the mountains. The day he arrives in Los Angeles he will take the first train out of town and go for a mountain goat hunt. Hunting will be an important part of Jim's training. There is nothing better than tramping over the mountains to develop endurance and wind.

Aside from that, Jeffries never did like the footlights and the clamor of the applauding multitude. He is a grouchy fellow in public. He likes much better to be away somewhere in the wild country hunting or fishing. In camp he's a jolly companion, full of stories and practical jokes, quite different from the gruff and short-spoken man who runs for his dressing room and locks the door as soon as his performance is over.

You have to go to the mountains with Jeffries to know him as he is.

Jeffries once played the part of Daniel Boone in a show. That was a part made for Jeff. But for the accidents of time and circumstances he would have been another Boone himself. He is essentially a frontiersman.

It happened that Jeffries grew up in a civilized part of the world. There were no more Indians to fight when he was a youngster. He lived in the outskirts of Los Angeles. But as soon as he could carry a rifle he spent all of his time in the mountains. He is a keen and crafty hunter. He finds game when others can't get a shot and seldom cames back to camp empty-handed.

Jeff would have been a great man among the old-time plainsmen who fought Indians and trapped wild beasts. Jeffries is a great shot with a rifle and revolver. His hand is as steady as a rock. I have seen him put a bullet into a post 200 yards away across a canyon with a Colt's automatic pistol without a rest. That's some shooting.

CHARLEY HITTE of Albany is doing well in Paris. He has won two fights. The second, with Bill Curzon (the fellow who broke three of Willie Lewis' teeth with a wallop), was a tough fight for Hitte. Curzon gave him all he could take until the eleventh. Then in a mixup Hitte threw over a swing that laid Curzon out senseless for five minutes.

BILLIARD NOTES.

Sheble will oppose Geisinger at 3:30 p. m. and Merrill will play Tibbals at 8 p. m., Wednesday, in the 18.2 balk-line billiard tournament matches at Charley Peterson's hall. Tuesday, L. B. Woodward defeated R. J. Nivrap, 200 to 178, and Willd defeated Thorn, 200 to 135.

M. A. C. to Test Swimmers for Coming Meet

A handicap practice aquatic meet will be decided at the Missouri A. C. Wednesday night for the purpose of getting the wearers of the Cherry Diamond in trim for the dual meet with the New Illinois A. C. aquatic squad which is scheduled to take place at the Missouri A. C. on Jan. 8.

The events for Wednesday night are 50 and 100 yard swims, 100 yards backstroke, 100 yards breast-stroke, plunge for distance and fancy diving. Charley Grimes, one of the best swimmers at the club, will compete.

Grimes, who played fullback early in the season for the Barnes University eleven, but who had his ankle broken, is again in good trim and with a two-second handicap on Otto Schwarz in the 50-yard dash should give his old rival a hard race.

"Big Eight" Men Holding Session of Importance

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Football questions of importance are up for settlement at the meeting of the "Big Fight" managers being held here Wednesday. Incidental to the framing of track and baseball schedules, Minnesota and Michigan are expected to figure in the discussion.

Although the managers will have no authority to act on Minnesota's scheduling a game with Michigan, it is thought the matter will come in for a discussion, with the probability that Minnesota will be censured for break-"Big Fight" faith.

WOLGAST NOW IN LINE TO FIGHT THE BATTLER

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 22.—Ad Wolgast of Milwaukee won the decision over Frank Picato of Los Angeles in a 10-round contest Tuesday night.

The hard-hitting Milwaukee lightweight took one step nearer his goal—a championship fight with Battling Nelson—by his decisive victory over Picato. Picato, however, stayed the limit, after a terrific beating. In the fourth round Wolgast knocked Picato down three times, but was unable to finish him. In the sixth Picato was sent down for the count of nine just before the gong. Picato outweighed Wolgast by six pounds, the question of weight having been waived.

The newspaper decision was unanimously given Wolgast.

$3,50 Recipe Cures Sick Men-----Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Ambitious.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of strength, failing memory and lame back, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of men ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is sick and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3907 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

J.P. Sufferers from nervous weaknesses should take Juven Pills. One box will tell a story of marvelous results. This medicine has more rejuvenating, vitalizing force than has ever before been offered. Sent postpaid in plain package only on receipt of this adv. and $1. Made by its originators C. I. Hood Co., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.

Wrestlers Here Working for Jeff-Gotch Show

Roller, De Rouen and Other Big Wrestlers Arrive for Big Coliseum Show Saturday Night

Raoul de Rouen, the big French wrestler, and Con O'Kelly, the huge Irishman, who are to appear in wrestling bouts at the Coliseum Saturday night as a side attraction to the Jeffries-Gotch show, are both in St. Louis and will work out at the M. A. C. up to Friday afternoon.

De Rouen has a hard job on his hands. He is to meet Champion Frank Gotch in a 15-minute bout. O'Kelly will grapple with Dr. Roller. Roller is clever, but he will have to step lively to escape the bear hugs of the ponderous Hibernian. O'Kelly and Roller are also scheduled to wrestle 15 minutes.

E. J. McCullough, one of the managers of the Jeff-Gotch combination, arrived Tuesday and immediately got busy making arrangements for Saturday night's show. McCullough declared that up to date the Jeff-Gotch combination has proved a highly successful one, in spite of the fact that the company has a payroll that would make the average theatrical show look sick.

Jack Hermansen and Jim Ashbell, both wrestlers, and Jack McCormack, the big boxer, are expected to arrive Thursday. Jeffries, Gotch and Sam Berger, the latter also a heavyweight fighter and Jeffries' manager, will hardly arrive before Friday.

Jack Curley, advance man for Jeffries, arrived Wednesday morning with Dr. Roller, both coming from Kansas City, where Roller won a handicap match from Zybecko, Tuesday night.

Big Deal On Between the Giants and Reds

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—Manager Clarke Griffith says that if everything moves smoothly and no unforeseen hitches occur, a big trade between the Giants and Reds will be made within the next few days.

President Herrmann and Manager Griffith have been working together with Brush and McGraw for several days, and Herrmann says that it's all fixed now but the final trade. Outfielder-Pitcher Torrey, who was wanted by New York, will go there, it is said, together with two other players from the local camp. In return for these three, Cincinnati will get Herzog for second base and probably Fletcher for either shortstop or third.

That the latter man will probably be tried out at third base instead of Hans Lobert is seen in the announcements coming from Manager Bancroft that Dick Egan has developed into a wonderful shortstop on the Western tour. Herrmann said the deal will probably be closed before Friday night.

"O white-robed peace! thy gentle cross
Gave to her trusting heart no pain,
And that which is our earthly loss
Is unto her eternal gain.

O, sweeter than the breath of flowers,
Or dews that summer roses weep,
Deep in these loving hearts of ours
Her blessed memory we will keep.
Bright spirit, let thy light be given,
With tender and celestial ray,
Beaming like some pure star from Heaven,
To guide us in our earthly way.

Clad in thine immortality
E'en now we hear thee joyful sing:
O grave, where is thy victory?
O death, where is thy sting?
Pass on, sweet spirit to increase
In every bright, celestial grace,
Till in the land of love and peace
We meet thee, dear one, face to face." (c)

HOW much of the world have you seen? How erect are you? How much muscle have you? How much do you know? Do you know a trade? How much money do you save? How do you like your present position? How much chance have you of being promoted? Do you ever expect to be a success? What is there in the future for you? How much ambition have you? Become a bluejacket in the United States Navy and you will see some of the United States—maybe some of the world; you will become erect, muscular, powerful; learn by travel, study and high-class associates; may learn a trade; can save money as nearly all your expenses are paid; will like your job—most boys re-enlist (65 per cent re-enlisted last year); if you are the right stuff you'll get promoted, and the training you get in the Navy will help mightily to make a success, even if you leave the Navy. Diamonds and Watches for Christmas Presents on Credit

At Christmas time, when one's heart is apt to be larger than one's purse, our liberal credit terms are a great convenience. They permit one to give the most valuable and beautiful gifts without paying out much money—indeed, five or ten dollars will do the work that fifty dollars does in the cash stores.

You can buy a splendid diamond ring, brooch, locket, scarf pin, earrings, cuff buttons, a high-grade watch or other piece of jewelry and pay on easiest weekly or monthly credit terms. Step into our salesrooms and make your selections. You can secure gifts for friend, relative or loved one and have all selections charged to one account, paying as you like. Why give an ordinary cheap gift when you can buy a diamond at the lowest price without cramping yourself for ready cash. Any diamond bought from us can be exchanged for a larger one and the difference in price paid as suits your convenience. The Loftis Confidential Credit System is the best and most economical way to give handsome and appropriate gifts without paying cash. No one knows that you buy on credit.

Our stock of DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY IS THE LARGEST IN THE CITY. OUR PRICES THE LOWEST, AND OUR TERMS ARE THE EASIEST.

New French Tea Garden.

One of the most interesting and most beautiful tea gardens in America is that of the Prufrock-Litton New Furniture Store. The company has thrown the entire fifth floor of their new home into a magnificent resting place for tired shoppers. The decorations are beautiful to behold. An atmosphere of ease, comfort and quietude pervades these quarters. The company serves a cup of hot exhilarating India tea to all its guests, and further entertains them with the masterpieces of Caruso, Melba and other stars, from 2 to 5 p. m. daily. No charges are made for any of this entertainment. The company maintains these sumptuous quarters and provides these pleasures for the convenience and enjoyment of its friends and visitors. It's quite an innovation and a treat to all St. Louisans and The Prufrock-Litton company are to be congratulated for introducing such a novel and pleasurable tea garden.

ARBITRARY NOT MENTIONED IN THE HOUSE BILL

No Attention Will Be Paid to Nine Reasons Against Granting Concessions.

COUNCIL IS FIRM

Schatz and His Followers Demand Railroads Shall Drop Extra Tarrif.

In a formal reply to President W. S. McChesney's defense of the "arbitraries" collected on freight and passengers by the Terminal Association, Councilman Schutz and three other leading members of the Council seem to have leveled at the House of Delegates and Mayor Kreismann a significant reminder that the popular vote for the free bridge was in reality a declaration against the continuance of such tolls.

Mayor Kreismann and members of the House of Delegates have not only failed to support the Council in its demand for the abolition of the "arbitraries," but have even tacitly agreed to waive compliance with the Council's ultimatum if the Terminal Association pays the city $2,000,000 cash as a consideration for the use of streets in the Ranken tract and in satisfaction of the company's many broken promises.

Since the withdrawal of the Council's representatives from conferences with the Terminal Association on the subject of vacating streets in the Ranken tract, the Mayor and Speaker Rombauer of the House of Delegates have reopened the negotiations and have discussed the provisions of a bill which will be ready for introduction in the Assembly after the holidays.

This bill will contain no stipulation that the Terminal Association is to remove or reduce its charges on traffic across the river.

Schatz Makes Report.

The report was made by Councilman Schutz and the other conferees—President Gundlach, Councilman Drew and Councilman Schneiderhahn—received the unanimous approval of the nine members at Friday's meeting.

That the Terminal Association can hope for no concession is indicated in the committee's statement that "this source of strife, discrimination and of broken promises (the bridge arbitrary) should be removed finally and forever, so that at last a full and complete amity and harmony may be established between the municipality, the railroads and the commercial interests of the city."

The nine reasons why the Council conference committee demanded, and still demands, the complete abolition of the bridge arbitraries before granting any franchise concessions to the Terminal Association are:

1. The railroads have not dealt fairly with St. Louis, and the arbitrary is proof of the injustice.

2. The railroads, through the Terminal, should deal with St. Louis as if they actually entered the city, and local commerce should pay no more to the combination than to the individual roads.

3. The conferees do not object to union terminals, but oppose the system by which railroads save money by joint operation and retaliate by levying extra charges on local commerce.

4. The abolition of arbitraries amounting to $2,000,000 a year is proof that many industries were driven from the city, and an argument in favor of the abolition of all arbitraries.

5. If the Terminal cannot remove arbitraries the railroads composing it can.

6. The Terminal Association is not a railroad, and St. Louis commerce ought not to pay what the railroads themselves should pay—the cost of its operation.

7. The city ought not grant an ordinance permitting the Terminal to levy charges that individual roads could not make if the association is dissolved by the courts.

8. The vote for the free bridge was in effect a practically unanimous vote against the bridge arbitrary.

9. The principle of bridge arbitraries is wrong, and this fruitful source of strife, discrimination and broken proimses should be removed forever so that harmony may be established between the city, the railroads and the commercial interests.

The committee that compiled the nine reasons for the abolition of the arbitrary are eager to give a public hearing on the bill.

FORTY STUDENTS MAKE TOUR OF THE DOWNTOWN DISTRICT

Class From St. Louis College of Pharmacy Visits Post-Dispatch and Big Stores.

Forty students of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy at Twenty-first and Locust streets, liberated for the Christmas holidays, turned the downtown district Wednesday morning, and halted to give their college yells wherever they could find room enough to get together.

They visited the Post-Dispatch office and inspected the entire plant, and when they reached the editorial rooms, gave a college yell that threatened to lift the ceiling. They cheered for their school, for the Post-Dispatch, and for the staff, collectively and individually. Afterward they visited all of the hotels, the department stores and the wholesale druggists.

Pennsylvanian Believes Speaker Has Only to Prove His Forbears Were Hanged.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.

SPEAKER CANNON got the following from a Pennsylvania Republican in his mail today:

"Dear Mr. Speaker—I read your Irish pedigree in the New York World. The O'Cannonans were a great tribe of a great race. If you can only prove that some of your forbears were hung, you will be elected President sure, Billy Taft and Teddy Roosevelt to the contrary notwithstanding."

"P. S.—Don't disturb Representative Cooper of my district. He already controls both parties in the district and we are jealous of his rights."

Mate of Ferryboat Thinks Carnegie Affected in Compass.

A BELATED pun, with Andrew Carnegie the victim, is being circulated. The ironmaster was on board a ferryboat at Norfolk on the day the President visited that port. Something went wrong with the compass. The captain appealed to the mate. The mate examined the compass and said:

"I guess it must be attracted by that steel magnate over there."

Senator Burrows Resurrects Englishman and Pie Joke.

SENATOR BURROWS of Michigan is responsible for the resurrection of the pie joke and the Englishman. He told it to Senator Depew as a personal experience. It seems that the Senator overheard the Englishman and was in the restaurant at the time it happened.

An American entered and asked for pie. The waiter named over the pie available.

"I'll take some apple, some mince, a little pumpkin, a wedge of peach and a slice of cranberry," said the customer.

"What's the matter with the custard?" asked the waiter.

"'And what was the matter with the custard?' the Englishman asked the waiter."

WOMAN GETS $500 VERDICT IN ROW OVER 50-CENT CHICKEN

Neighbor Caused Her Arrest for Theft of Fowl and She Sued for $1000.

MACON, Mo., Dec. 22.—A verdict for $500 was given Mrs. Cynthia Lucas, 63 years old, against Daniel Bruner, 69 years old, because Bruner had Mrs. Lucas arrested for stealing a chicken worth 50 cents. The litigants were next-door neighbors, living at Excello.

Bruner missed a chicken, and some friends told him that Mrs. Lucas took it. He had her arrested and at the trial before the justice she was discharged. She brought suit against Bruner for her humiliation at the trial, placing her damages at $1000.

The case was tried in the Macon Circuit Court and the issues presented by veteran attorneys. Bruner says he will appeal.

BUTTER AND EGGS SKY HIGH

Butter in New York 42 to 45 Cents and Eggs 55 Cents a Dozen.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Butter and eggs have soared to a record figure in New York holiday market. The best grade butter was quoted today at 42 to 45 cents retail, while 55 cents a dozen for eggs was the price for the freshest eggs.

The housewife found some consolation in the fact that cranberries are quoted at 10 cents a quart, which is a lower price than they have commanded for several years. This, however, appears to be the only Christmas dinner dainty that can be obtained for less money than a year ago.

Next Saturday being Christmas, send in your Sunday "Wants" on Friday and save Xmas day from business worry.

OPPOSITION TO SENTER SHOWN IN COMMITTEE

Democrats Urge That Selection of Campaign Manager Be Postponed.

FRIENDLY TO FRANCIS

Senatorial Fight in Which Reed and Folk Are Interested Is Involved.

Fearing that the selection of Charles P. Senter as campaign manager may precipitate factional dissensions, members of the Democratic State Committee are urging the Executive Committee, in session Wednesday, to defer action on that matter until the State Convention at Kansas City, Jan. 8.

It is understood that one of the committeemen friendly to the senatorial candidacy of former Gov. Folk, objects to Senter on the ground that he is a personal friend of David R. Francis, and would be prejudiced in his favor if Francis became an aspirant for the United States Senatorship.

Former Mayor Reed of Kansas City, who came to St. Louis Wednesday, is also thought to be opposed to Senter for the same reason, although his friends say he is not on record to that effect.

Reed to Stay in Fight.

Reed announced on his arrival that he is in the senatorial fight to stay.

"What will be your platform?" he was asked.

"I intend to stand on Democratic principles," he replied.

The executive committee was slow in assembling. H. W. Johnson, chairman of the body, and Secretary E. L. Harty appeared at headquarters in the Commonwealth Trust building at noon, but none of the other members was on hand at that hour.

Chairman Johnson, when seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter, declared that he was not responsible for the report that a campaign manager would be selected at the present meeting.

Opposition in the Country.

"Our committee," he said, "has authority to consider that matter and to make a selection, but I do not know that the committee cares to do so at this time."

The boom for Senter, formerly chairman of the St. Louis Cotton Exchange, is being nursed by Ed F. Goltra and State Senator Kinney. The country members are rather lukewarm and prefer, it is said, some man who is not a resident of St. Louis.

The fact remains, however, that probably a majority of the committee favors Francis for senator and on this account they may finally choose Senter, notwithstanding the opposition from the Folk and Reed quarters.

Preceding the executive committee meeting Chairman Johnson held a long conference with Mr. Francis at the latter's office on Fourth street. Only routine matters pertaining to the party organization were discussed, according to Johnson.

WIDOW REBELS AT OFFERS TO WED, IN RESPONSE TO LETTER SHE NEVER WROTE

Recipient of Proposals Suspects That Is Is Boarders' Idea of a Joke.

There are two boarders in a North St. Louis boarding house who may as well hang up their stockings Christmas Eve, so far as the landlady is concerned. She will put not so much as a bag of popcorn in their number elevens, and they may think themselves lucky if she does not, instead, send them a Christmas card giving them notice to find a new boarding place.

The landlady is Mrs. L. B. Reason of 2114 Blair avenue, and she believes the two boarders sent to the chief of police of Spokane, Wash., a letter purporting to announce that she, Mrs. Reason, was in search of a husband. Dispatches from Spokane brought the text of the letter back to St. Louis. This is it:

> I am a widow, 35 years old, a brunette; height, 5 feet 5 inches, and weigh 132 pounds. I have a jolly good nature and am a good housekeeper. I am strictly a business woman of good Kentucky birth. Now, if you know of some good middle-aged gentleman who wants a good wife I think I will suit him. I have been a widow for eight years. I am able to furnish references and shall expect them in return. I will exchange photis with any one who answers this letter. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am, yours respectfully,
>
> MRS. L. B. REASON,
> 2114 Blair avenue, St. Louis.

Her "jolly good nature" was not in evidence when Mrs. Reason first saw a copy of the letter. All her "132 pounds" trembled with indignation as she declared she had never written the letter, and that it was all a joke on the part of two of her boarders. She has received two proposals by mail, based on the publication of the letter in a Spokane paper, but says she will not answer them.

CALLS DAMAGES EXCESSIVE

Judge Crow of the Circuit Court at Belleville granted a new trial Wednesday to the Illinois Central Railroad, against which a jury assessed $7000 damages in a suit brought by the Mulberry Hill Coal Co. The plaintiff alleged that the railroad's failure to provide enough cars to remove its coal caused a loss estimated at $10,000.

Judge Crow granted a retrial on the ground that the damages awarded were excessive and computed erroneously.

GRAIN CONCERN CITED FOR USING TICKER FIGURES

Chicago Board Charges Temporary Injunction Has Been Violated.

Judge Dyer of the United States Circuit Court Wednesday issued a citation against the Merchants' Stock and Grain Co. and nine of its employes to appear before him Jan. 4 and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court for violating a temporary injunction restraining them from receiving or using the quotations of the Chicago Board of Trade.

The temporary injunction was issued Nov. 3 upon the application of the Chicago Board of Trade. The individual defendants are John F. Ryan, Frank J. Miner, Peter Holmes, Patrick A. Stephens, P. B. Burch, Percy Anderson, Charles S. Sparkman, Frank Mullen, Ralph McDonough, Joseph E. Martin and Clyde Pumphrey.

The Chicago Board of Trade alleges the defendants violated the injunction by receiving the forbidden quotations and sending them to its 400 branch offices and in support of its charge filed the affidavits of Friedel L. Schuyler, assistant chief reporter of the Chicago Board of Trade, and Emery J. Chronister, a telegraph operator. The affidavits state these two men went to the office of the Merchants Stock and Grain Co. at Fourth and Pine streets Nov. 6 and that the operator heard coming over the wires and saw copied on the board the wheat, corn, oats, pork, lard and short ribs quotations of the Chicago Board of Trade.

When the operator copied some of the quotations from the board he was ejected from the place by employes and policemen, according to the affidavits. The affidavit of George J. Burmeister, another telegraph operator, is offered in support of the charge that the quotations were sent to branch offices at Macomb, Ill., Monmouth, Ill., Ottumwa, Io., and Kansas City. An affidavit of Eugene F. Cooney, chief reporter of the Chicago Board of Trade, states that the quotations copied by the operator are same as those sent out by that organization.

STOCK MARKET OPENS LOWER IN NEW YORK

Rock Island Is Feature of the Early Trading, the Coppers Are Strong.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 12:30 p. m.—The strength which developed in the market in the first half hour's trading became irregular during the forenoon. Losses and gains were generally fractional, fluctuations of a point or more being confined to a few issues.

The coppers gained on reports that the merger was certain of accomplishment. Anaconda advanced ⅛, Amalgamated and Smelting ¾ each. Utah Copper, on the other hand, was weak, losing 1¼ points. Colorado Fuel receded ⅝, Lead ⅛, People's Gas ½ and Harvester 1 point.

In the rails division Northern Pacific declined ⅛, Erie ¼ K. C. Southern, M., K. & T. and St. Paul ½ each.

Atchison, B. & O., C. & O., Great Northern, New York Central, Southern Pacific and Wabash preferred ¼ each; Canadian Pacific ⅝, Reading ½, Rock Island common ¾ and Pennsylvania 1 point.

B. R. T., Missouri Pacific, Rock Island preferred and Union Pacific were unchanged.

Call money ranged between 4⅞ and 5 per cent.

Trading was considerably under normal, the total sales to noon amounting to only 256,500 shares.

With the exceptions of International Harvester, the Copper stocks and a few of the rail issues, the market opened fractionally lower today. The declines averaged about ¼ point. As has been the case for the last few days Consolidated Gas was the feature of the early trading in point of activity.

Steel Common lost ⅛ and Colorado Fuel ¼. Amalgamated Copper gained ⅛, Smelting ⅝, Utah Copper ⅝, and Harvester 1. Consolidated Gas opened at parity.

In the railway list Atchison, B. & O., N. Y. Central, So. Pacific and Wabash preferred declined ⅛ each, C. & O., Erie and Union Pacific ¼ each; Rock Island Common ⅜ and Mo. Pacific ½ point. B. R. T. advanced ¼, Rock Island preferred ⅝ and Reading ½ point.

In the first fifteen minutes Rock Island preferred was advanced to 93⅝, thus establishing a new high record in this security for the last ten years.

In the first half hour's trading the trend of prices was higner, although the advances were generally insignificant. The Rock Island stocks were the feature of the early trading, the common gaining 1 point and the preferred 1⅛.

Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, C. & O. and Atchison advanced a small fraction each. Reading declined ¼ and Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Wabash preferred and Missouri Pacific were unchanged.

The industrials followed the lead of the rail issues. Steel common and the Coppers advanced a large fraction each, and Consolidated Gas gained 2 points. Utah Copper weakened a trifle.

At the end of the first half hour Rock Island preferred had advanced to 94⅝, which is 2⅝ points above its opening.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Opening prices in the stock market today did not vary much from yesterday's closing figures, the widest change in the active stocks reaching a gain of ½ point in Reading. Other changes were about evenly divided in gains and losses. Rock Island preferred rose 1¼ and International Harvester 1.

Business increased largely in volume, but the purchasing orders were mostly in stocks which have shown recent decided strength such as Rock Island preferred and Consolidated Gas. A handful of other specialties also became strong, but the general run of stocks was neglected. This condition encouraged bear selling of the railroad stocks later, Union Pacific going down nearly a point and the whole list falling back. Consolidated Gas lost most of its 2-point rise and Rock Island preferred receded 1¼ after going up 2¾. Pittsburg Coal preferred rose 1⅝; American Smelting 1⅜ and Amalgamated Copper and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1. American Can preferred lost 1¼.

Prices suffered from inanition, the market being practically lifeless. General Electric declined 1 and Pacific Mail 1¼. Pittsburg Coal rose 1. Bonds were irregular.

When it was announced that the dividend had been raised on Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis it rose two points. Pennsylvania rose 1⅛ and Reading 1¼. The rest of the market was completely at a standstill. Soo Line advanced 2. Minneapolis & St. Louis fell 1.

After the buying of the Pennsylvania stocks had quieted down, the whole market relapsed into the recent state of idleness and fluctuations scarcely exceeded ¼. Western Maryland certificates lost 2¼ and Kansas City Southern 1. United Dry Goods rose 1 and Reading second preferred 1⅛.

The market closed heavy and dull. The coalers showed strength, Pennsylvania rising 1⅛, Delaware & Hudson 2⅛, Reading second preferred 5 and Lackawanna 1. EAST ST. LOUIS NOTES.

Mrs. Katherine Comin of 3750 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, who gave her life in an attempt to save that of her little daughter Minnie, when the child's clothing caught fire, Sunday morning, after an explosion of a toy stove, was buried in the same grave with the little girl, Wednesday. The child died from burns, Sunday afternoon, at St. Mary's Hospital, and the mother died Monday morning. The father, Edmund Comin, whose hands were burned trying to save his wife and child, was able to attend the funeral.

John Johnson, 35 years old, died at his home, 129 St. Clair avenue, Tuesday night. The funeral will be held from the residence, Thursday afternoon. Burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery, St. Louis.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church there will be early celebration at 7:30 Christmas morning and Christmas services and music and holy communion at 10:45 a. m. The Rev. Francis M. S. Taylor, D. D., the rector, will conduct the celebration. The children's festival will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The body of David Byron Morgan, 84 years old, who died Tuesday afternoon at his home, 549 North Thirteenth street, will be sent to Carlyle, Ill., for burial, Thursday morning. Funeral services will be held at the residence, Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which order Mr. Morgan has been a member for more than sixty years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Frances Morgan, and two daughters, Miss Iva B. Morgan and Mrs. William F. Harvey.

Don't forget the cook. A "Buck's" range will satisfy her. It is, in fact, a gift the whole family can enjoy. Rhodes-Burford sells them on easy monthly payments.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Transactions at the local banks and trust companies continue in good volume. Generally business is reported in excellent condition, especially the retail branch, holiday shopping having a stimulating effect. Counter transactions at the various financial institutions are quite large. The demand for money continues active, but funds are plentiful and the market shows no disposition right now to tighten, though a firmer situation is anticipated after the turn of the year.

BOSTON, Dec. 22.—The nearer we approach the end of the year, the quieter is the business in money; that is, so far as new transactions are concerned. Preparations are already being made for Jan. 1 interest and dividend disbursements, and attention is being more directed to this phase of the situation. National banks are willing loaners of call money, but they are not putting out time funds in any amount, except to their own depositors. On call, money is mostly 5½ per cent, with exceptions at 6 per cent and 5 per cent. Time money is 5½ per cent.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Call money was in good request and up to 5 per cent was paid, although the closing quotation was 4¼ per cent to 4½ per cent. A large amount was borrowed from the Bank of England, but only a small business was done in bills. Discounts were easy at 3¾ per cent. The Continent was a buyer at 3 13-16 per cent.

MISS. VALLEY IS VERY ACTIVE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Local Securities Are Strong; Candy Continues to Move Upward.

From a trading standpoint Christmas week on the St. Louis Stock Exchange has been a busy one.

Wednesday's first session was a comparatively active one. Most of the transfers were in Mississippi Valley Trust, Hydraulic Press Brick and National Candy. Prices were harder all around. One hundred shares of Mississippi changed hands at 293, which is an advance of about a point, and Candy sold at 23½, against an average price of 23, on Tuesday. Hydraulic Brick was steady. Kansas City Home Telephone was sharply higher. Brewery bonds were also strong. There was an excellent undertone to the market.

HOGS—The market opened slow and dull. Prices were generally 15c lower. Trading was slow and at noon but few hogs had passed over the scales. Besides the fresh arrivals, there were a good many pigs and lights on the market that were held over night. The top was $8.40, showing a loss of 15c, and the bulk of the hogs sold at $8@8.25, also showing a loss of 15c. Good pigs and lights were fair sellers to the shippers, but there was no call for poorer grades. At a late hour they were still mostly unsold. Packers were bearish and purchased the bulk of their hogs at $7.90@8.10.

SHEEP—The market was dull and generally 25c lower on all kinds with the poorer offerings showing a greater loss. Best lambs brought $8, against a top yesterday of $8.40. Best mutton sheep sold at $5.50, showing a loss of 25c. Buyers claimed that on account of the large amount of poultry and game on the market the mutton trade was in bad shape and they expected it to continue so the rest of the week.

HORSES AND MULES—The horse market was active throughout the day. Receipts were some lighter than usual, but quality was fairly good and all offerings sold at good strong prices. Receipts for the week have been far below the demand. Fresh receipts for the day approximated 75 head. Mule receipts were light today, fresh offerings consisting mainly of the better classes of cotton mules, which sold at good prices. Fresh receipts for the day approximated 150 head.

TYPICAL HOLIDAY MARKET ON WHEAT

Influenced by Weak Cables and Normal Delivery Conditions, Prices Rule Weak, Dull.

The local wheat market was dull and weak Wednesday. The short interest has covered freely, leaving the December option pretty well evened up, and this relieving of the congestion caused a general tendency to pay more attention to the bearish prospects for May delivery. The long realizing and liquidation, together with a scattered general selling movement, constituted a pressure of sufficient volume to keep prices weak at fractionally lower levels. Trading was light and a holiday atmosphere of inactivity prevailed during most of the session.

The opening was sharply lower, the weak start being a reflection of foreign declines. Late advices from Argentine indicate a larger exportable surplus than was formerly expected. Liverpool reported free offerings of Argentine and Manitoba parcels at declines of 3d, and there were reports of offers of Australian sailors at lower prices. The generally weak spot conditions and the steady reactionary tendency were reflected in a net closing loss of ½d to ¼d at Liverpool and a lower trend in other European markets.

It is said that the extreme cold in the Northwest will continue to hamper the movement in that region. This factor, however, has not yet made itself acutely felt in the markets. Receipts, while still somewhat below the average, are picking up steadily, and show good increases over the recent small run. Especially is this the case in winter wheat primaries. Stocks, at most points are holding their own.

The weather continues favorable for the winter wheat crop. The plant has gotten an excellent start and now is furnished with ample snow covering. The prospects of a large yield and consequent bearish conditions in the distant options is becoming impressed on the traders, now that further fireworks in the December delivery is very unlikely. These factors also were considered sufficient to offset the strong cash situation, which all along has been largely a reflection of the congested December conditions. There was very little life to the trade in any position. The flour trade was dull and no export demand for wheat existed. The cash demand was sufficient to absorb the light offerings, and at high prices, but it possessed little breadth.

There was a scattered selling movement all morning. Prices dragged along in a dull, listless manner at fractional net losses and toward noon showed an easy tone.

December wheat opened ⅝c lower, at $1.14½, and rallied to $1.14¾. May wheat opened ¼@½c lower, at $1.12¼, declined to $1.11¼@1.11⅛, and had bids at $1.11⅝. July wheat opened ⅝c lower, at $1.00⅛, and rallied to $1.00⅛.

THE RAILROADS.

As a low-priced speculation, Rock Island common has been popular and a larger field for its activities was enlisted when heavy Western buying set in. The recent rise was too sharp and invited profit-taking, which resulted in some slight setback. The suggestion that the stock will sell above 60 by February obtains greater credence than does the talk that a dividend for the common is "in sight." It appears as if the shares are being bought on all fair recessions by important people in the speculative field.

A notable move during the week was the advance of one per cent in the price of the St. Paul bonds recently underwritten by two important banking interests which, shows that the improved conditions have extended generally through the market. Another good feature which bond dealers dwell upon as most favorable is the fact that a leading international banking house has placed $4,000,000 more St. Louis & San Francisco 5 per cent bonds in Paris.

MAYOR FAVORS DIVERSION OF MULLANPHY FUND TO MISSOURI

Believes Money Should Be Used in Settling European Immigrants on Farms.

Immigration Commissioner Curran's plan to divert the Mullanphy fund, wholly or in part, to the settling of European immigrants on Missouri farm land, is approved by Mayor Kreismann. The Mayor has written to Gov. Hadley that he hopes to get a favorable opinion on the legality of the plan, and to persuade the Mullanphy Board to adopt it.

Vital W. Garesche, president of the board, has also asked the City Counselor for an opinion as to the possibility of diverting the fund, which amounts to $1,500,000. The bequest which governs the fund provides that it is to be used for the relief of immigrants passing through St. Louis on their way to make their homes in the West. The demands of this class are small, and last year only $1500 was spent for the purpose named. The board has recently constructed a $70,000 model tenement as part of its property.

NEGROES FIGHT DUEL WITH SHOTGUNS AND ARE UNHURT

Bloodless Battle Drives Pedestrians to Cover and Police Seek Participants.

Kirkwood police are looking for Ed Turner and Charley Pell, negroes, who fought a bloodless duel with shotguns at Main street and Webster avenue Tuesday night.

The men had a quarrel and each went home and procured a shotgun. They met again and each got behind a telegraph pole and they blazed away at each other until their ammunition was exhausted. Then they went away in opposite directions.

While the bombardment was on, pedestrians took refuge in the nearest stores and left the field to the combatants.

ST. CHARLES WOMAN MISSING SINCE SATURDAY SOUGHT HERE

Elmer Brown, Following Unsuccessful Hunt, Asks Police to Help.

Elmer Brown of St. Charles has asked the St. Louis police to look for his wife, Orlena Brown, of whom he has been unable to find a trace since last Saturday, when they came to St. Louis together. They intended to stop for several days at the home of Brown's sister, Mrs. Emma Trapp of 4149 Olive street, but when they arrived in St. Louis Mrs. Brown refused to go direct to Mrs. Trapp's home, saying she wished to shop.

Brown believed she might have visited Miss Katie Keck who is employed at Eleventh and Washington avenue, but police inquiry Tuesday showed that Miss Keck has not seen her. Brown says that his wife had been ill and had suffered from melancholia for several weeks.

3850 NAMES IN ST. LOUIS' NEW "BLACK BOOK"

Social Register for 1910 Skims Social Cream From the Blue Book.

FACTS GIVEN TERSELY

List Contains 51 Who Are Dead or Are Now Living in Other Cities.

The Black Book is out.

Don't confuse it with a blacklist, or anything about blackballs. The people named in the Black Book may know about highballs, but they have no subjective knowledge of club blackballs or social blacklists.

The Black Book is as much more select than the Blue Book, as the Blue Book is more select than the City Directory. It represents a careful skimming of the social cream which the Blue Book endeavors to separate from the surface of common St. Louis mankind and womankind. Not only the "creme de la creme," in other words, but the "whole cheese."

The Black Book's official name is the Social Register of St. Louis, and its 1910 issue is just out. Unlike the Blue Book, the City Directory and various people's guides, it is not published in St. Louis, but in New York.

Facts Are Given Condensed.

Anyone who, not having a city directory at hand, started to look up a name in the Social Register, might be a bit puzzled by what he would find. Assuming that the name sought was in the little black-covered volume, it would be in something like the following form:

> Spoopendyke Mr & Mrs Montague Q Jr (Abercrombie—Bedelia F Whiffenheimer) Sl.Mc.Nd.Cy.Rc.Wn.Bing '85 Junions Miss Olivia and Mr Archibald * * Phone No 2323 Forest & kin 7654 Del 4800 Lindell Bl

This is as abbreviated as a stock market report, but, when the cipher is known, it becomes quite informative. It indicates, to those versed in reading the book, that Mr. Spoopendyke lives at 4800 Lindell boulevard, was graduated from Bingville College in 1885, and married Mrs. Bedelia Abercrombie, whose maiden name had been Whiffenheimer; that they have a son between 14 and 20 years of age, and a daughter between 12 and 17; that he is a member of the St. Louis, Mercantile, Noonday, Country and Racquet clubs, and that Mrs. Spoopendyke is a member of the St. Louis Woman's Club; also that they have telephones of both systems, whose numbers are designated in an order the reverse of that followed in the telephone companies' books.

Contains 3850 Names.

The book contains approximately 3850 names, but this number includes 51 who have died and a number living in other American cities or abroad. The list of weddings shows 93 during the year covered by the record, or five less than the year before. The usual list of "Married Maidens," a convenience for those who don't remember the name of that man that Miss Upperten married, is published.

James Eads How, known to the world as friend and companion of the hoboes, is in the list, his name appearing with that of his mother, Mrs. James F. How, as living at 4170 Lindell boulevard. Ellis Wainwright, who has not seen St. Louis since the boodle troubles began in 1902, is designated as "abroad."

OVERCOME BY GAS, WOMAN SUES

Mrs. Costelli Asks $7500 Damages From Laclede Company.

Mrs. Annie Costelli, who, with her husband, Philip, and son, Vincenzo, was overcome by gas in her home, 3012 North Newstead avenue, Oct. 7, has filed suit against the Laclede Gas Light Co. for $7500 damages, alleging that the gas main leaked.

The woman's attorney says that two other suits will be filed, one by the son for $7500, and another by Mrs. Costelli for the death of her husband. Costelli was killed by a train on a trestle near Kimmswick, Mo., two weeks after he was overcome by gas. The woman asserts that the gas made her husband stupid and he was unable to hear the train approaching.
